

Explore our central London campus and find out more at one of our undergraduate open days. Alternatively, we would be delighted to welcome you for a personal consultation and guided tour.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk

regents.ac.uk/socialmedia

Welcome to Regent's University London

A network of global connections with 140+ student nationalities represented on campus

Practical learning environment and high levels of attention from expert staff

Wide range of UK degrees, including American-style programmes

Superb central London location and campus community, with premium quality accommodation

Excellent graduate employment opportunities

'I have enjoyed studying English at Regent's, talking to my fellow students and seeing the sights in London and the UK. I especially enjoyed visiting English Heritage sites like Stonehenge.'

Narumi Noya, international exchange and English language student, Hokuriku University, Japan regents.ac.uk/narumi

'I think Regent's has given me everything it could possibly offer. I've made sure I joined in and never missed anything. This helped me to stand on my own two feet and understand what it will take to be the best.'

Dina Darweish, UK,
BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing

regents.ac.uk/dina

'In no other place except the United Nations or international airports, can a person meet so many different nationalities. I constantly felt encouraged to learn about other cultures and languages.'

Taekil Kim, South Korea,
BA (Hons) International Business
(Marketing) with Spanish

regents.ac.uk/taekil

Contents

Why Choose Regent's University London?	04
Studying in London	06
Open Days	08
Student Life	10
Finding Somewhere to Live	12
All the Support You Need	14
Learning Resources	16
Languages at Regent's	18
Study Abroad	20
Preparing for Your Future	24
Keeping in Touch	26
Degree programmes	29
Business & Management	30
Fashion & Design	50
Film, Media & Performance	62
Liberal Arts & Humanities	74
Psychology	100
Admissions	106
How to Apply	108
Tuition Fees	110
Financing Your Studies	112
How to Find Us	114

Why Choose Regent's University London?

Set in the heart of the UK's vibrant capital city, Regent's University London is a superb place in which to live and study. Our campus in Regent's Park and specialist facilities at Marylebone offer the ideal setting for your studies, just minutes away from all that central London has to offer.

Wide choice of degree programmes

We offer both UK and American-style degree programmes in a wide range of fields, including business and management, finance, humanities, creative arts, social sciences and design.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk

Personal attention

At Regent's, you will never be just another face in the crowd. This is a friendly place where staff and students know each other by name. We place a strong emphasis on plenty of face-to-face teaching time, giving you the individual attention you need to succeed.

Central London location

You will be within easy reach of all that this exciting European city has to offer. We are close to the City of London and the West End, with easy access to London's famous theatres, galleries and museums, as well as major sporting and entertainment venues.

Beautiful surroundings in which to learn
With mellow red-brick buildings set in 11 acres of private garden, our main campus in Regent's Park is a quiet, secluded haven in which to live and study. A short walk away, our Marylebone site sits in a lively historical area that retains the artisan feel of the Georgian village it once was – a neighbourhood now known for its up-market designer boutiques, cafés and design shops.

Excellent transport links
Our central location makes it easy to get around. We are close to Baker Street Tube station, 10 minutes by Underground from the Eurostar and less than one hour's travel from London airports.

Employability

We focus on preparing you for the real demands of the working world. Our programmes balance academic knowledge with practical, hands-on experience. You will be taught by people who are also working professionals. Visits from industry experts, working on live briefs and real-world case studies help to bring your learning to life.

International outlook
With 4,800 students from more than 140 countries worldwide, Regent's is a genuinely international community. You will make friends from all over the world, learn about other cultures, expand your outlook and build a network of contacts for the future.

London as your classroom
Whether you plan to study business, humanities or design, you will find that London's culture, heritage and commerce form an essential part of the Regent's experience.

Studying in London

London has no parallel as an international city in which to live and study. Regent's location at the heart of the UK capital puts you within easy reach of the world-class cultural, educational and leisure facilities that make London the top destination for visitors across the world.

Throughout its long history, London has welcomed people from around the globe, and continues to do so. More than 300 languages are spoken throughout the city, which is home to a hugely diverse population. It is also a great place to be young – more than a quarter of the people who live here are under 25 and London has the highest concentration of university students in Europe.

Around the campus

London is famed for its green space, and Regent's Park – one of the city's eight royal parks – is right on your doorstep. From here, you can walk to London Zoo, rub shoulders with the waxworks at Madame Tussauds, explore the markets and cafés of Camden, browse the up-market shops in Marylebone Village or stroll down to busy Oxford Street.

Central London attractions

As well as enjoying your immediate surroundings, you will be ideally placed to explore all that London has to offer.

Both our Regent's Park campus and Marylebone site are close to Baker Street Underground station with its many Tube lines, so you will be no more than 20 minutes away from most of London's main attractions.

The city's shops, theatres, galleries, nightlife and sports venues are all within easy reach.

With hundreds of cinemas and theatres, including the world-famous West End theatres and the National Theatre on the South Bank, you will have plenty of live and on-screen entertainment to choose from.

Regent's is just a few stops on the Underground from the major sporting and music venues of the O2, Wembley Stadium and Wembley Arena.

London is also a great place for street markets and open-air events. Around 250 festivals take place in the capital each year, including Europe's biggest street festival, the Notting Hill Carnival.

London as your classroom

London is a wonderfully inspiring place in which to study. You will be surrounded by world-class architecture, museums, galleries and many other venues that offer endless opportunities for learning and research. London is home to hundreds of world-class museums, such as the British Museum, Natural History Museum, the V&A and the Design Museum.

There are more than 800 art galleries, including the major collections at Tate Britain, Tate Modern and the National Gallery. The British Library, with its unique resources, is a short bus or Tube ride from campus.

Career opportunities

Being located close to the main financial, business and cultural districts of the city offers excellent opportunities for finding internships, gaining work experience and building contacts for your future.

London is one of the world's leading financial centres: more than half of the UK's top listed companies and one-fifth of Europe's largest companies are based here. You will be close to the key districts of Mayfair, Canary Wharf and the City of London.

Google's headquarters are just 10 minutes away from campus at King's Cross, and 'Silicon Roundabout' is to the east of the city.

Our proximity to London's theatreland and the traditional media hubs of Soho and Bloomsbury offers plenty of opportunity to gain experience within the creative industries.

London is also a world capital for fashion and design. Many leading designers are based here, and you will be within easy reach of flagship fashion stores and the luxury shopping districts of Bond Street and Knightsbridge, as well as areas for alternative and vintage fashion, such as Spitalfields and Camden.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk

'I get to study in the most amazing city in the world. No other city is so diverse. It's like studying in five different cities at once.'

Julia Spaeth, Germany

regents.ac.uk/julia

Seven Brides for Seven Brothers 2015; Photo: David Jensen

Open Days

Explore our central London campus and extensive facilities at one of our informative undergraduate open days. Alternatively, we would be delighted to welcome you for a personal consultation and guided tour.

Undergraduate open days are held throughout the year and are the perfect way to discover all that Regent's has to offer.

You will meet current students and academic staff, take part in a taster session and learn more about the range of degrees on offer in:

Business & Management

Fashion & Design

Film, Media & Performance

Liberal Arts & Humanities

Psychotherapy & Psychology

You will be able to explore our beautiful campus and facilities, and see the range of student accommodation available.

You will also have the opportunity to talk to academics, admissions, student services, study abroad and careers staff.

Open Day dates

Open days take place throughout the year. For all dates and to register your interest, please visit regents.ac.uk/opensdays

International visits

We visit over 30 countries a year to meet with enquirers and applicants, giving you the chance to find out more about our programmes and talk to a member of staff about studying with us. Why not contact us to find out if we will be visiting your country or school this year?

Personal visits

If you are unable to attend an open day you are welcome to make an individual visit to the campus. Please contact us to arrange an appointment. regents.ac.uk/visit-us

Support and access

If you have any particular support needs or access requirements for your visit, please let us know, so that we can make any necessary arrangements in advance.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/opensdays

‘When I met my course leader and tutors, everyone seemed so passionate and excited about the course and the university. They were as interested in me and my work as I was in the course, which is what really pushed me to choose Regent’s.’

Phoebe Jones, UK,
BA (Hons) Interior Design

regents.ac.uk/phoebe

Student Life

We want to make sure you get the most out of every moment as a student at Regent's. You will find plenty of opportunities here to socialise, relax, exercise, be creative and get involved. As well as the many activities on campus, you will be ideally placed to explore all that London, the UK and Europe have to offer.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/life

Student Union

The Union is your voice in the University, representing students at all levels of decision-making to ensure that the student experience remains at the heart of developments and activity. Union officers are elected annually. As well as representing your interests they provide a host of services and activities to improve student life. As a new student you are automatically enrolled as a member of the Student Union (membership is free).

Clubs and societies

The Student Union supports a number of clubs and societies and welcomes the creation of new ones.

We are proud to be located in a diverse city, drawing students from a variety of backgrounds and from countries across the world. This ensures that, whatever your interests, you will find like-minded people as well as lots of new ideas to explore.

Clubs and societies vary from year to year, and have included everything from photography, debating, music, psychology and law to film, finance and human rights.

We also have many cultural associations, such as the African-American, Indian, Middle Eastern, Pakistan, Russian and Scandinavian societies.

Events and activities

You will have lots of events to choose from, both on and off campus. The University hosts a number of major social events during the year, including the Grand Autumn Party, Freshers' Fair, graduation events, the Regent's Arts Season and Regent's Fashion Show.

The Student Union also organises a wide variety of social activities each term, such as barbecues, parties, club nights, karaoke evenings, quiz nights, boat parties and networking events.

Exploring further afield

Our Student Services team can help you make the most of being in London, with information on the local area, activities and events across the city, and discounted theatre tickets. You can also broaden your knowledge of the UK and Europe through the range of trips, activities and cultural experiences on offer, such as a weekend in Paris or visits to a range of culturally significant and popular UK destinations.

Food and drink

With coffee shops, bars, restaurants and a deli all within a short walk of each other on the Regent's Park campus, you will find plenty of choice when it comes to food and drink.

The Regent's Refectory, our main dining hall, offers a wide selection of dishes from around the world. The menu changes each day and caters for a variety of diets, including vegetarian. Open from early morning until evening, the refectory is a popular choice for meals and meeting friends

With its attractive feature fireplaces and wood-panelled walls, the Regent's Brasserie is another favourite student meeting place. The brasserie includes a restaurant with an impressive European-inspired menu, as well as a more informal café

Bedford's Bar is open all day, serving a selection of coffee, pastries and snacks and a full menu for lunch and dinner. As well as being a great place to socialise, the large flat-screen televisions make it the ideal venue to catch up on news and sport while you enjoy a meal or drink

Representation

You can volunteer to become a programme representative for your degree programme. Every programme and level is represented so that we have the best possible level of communication between students and academics.

'Life at Regent's is very social, you're always bumping into someone that you've met at a Freshers' night or from accommodation. You feel like you're part of one big family.'

Flur Harwood-Jones, UK,
Integrated Business Foundation

regents.ac.uk/flur

Relaxation

The student common room is furnished with sofas, PCs and a flat-screen TV, and has wireless internet access. It is a great place to chill out between classes and chat with friends.

There is a music practice room which has a piano and electric keyboard. We also have a range of musical instruments that you can borrow in order to develop or practice your creative talents. We have two popular music societies and a Regent's band.

Sport and fitness

We encourage all our students to be active and healthy, and can offer advice and support to help you achieve your health, fitness and sporting goals. You can become a member of a sports team to play competitively or casually, and join exercise classes and other health and well-being initiatives throughout the year.

A varied range of fitness sessions include yoga, pilates, boxercise, zumba, resistance and high-intensity training.

There is a multi-use games area for five-a-side football, tennis and basketball. We have competitive polo, fencing, volleyball, football and basketball teams. We also offer free recreational sports like tennis, netball and rugby with free taster sessions.

The University has a partnership with Regent's Place Health Club, situated close to campus. Regent's students have a substantial discount on membership with flexible sign-up times. The club offers extensive gym facilities, personal training and a wide range of studio classes, plus a sauna, steam rooms, hairdresser and café bar.

Finding Somewhere to Live

We know how important it is to have comfortable and conveniently located housing when you are studying in London. We will assist you in finding somewhere to stay, either by arranging a place for you in University-managed housing or by helping you find somewhere in the private sector. We can help to identify what is important to you and make recommendations to suit different budgets and requirements.

Email enquiries
accommodation@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7483

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/accommodation

On-campus accommodation

Our halls of residence are set in the beautiful leafy grounds of the Regent's Park campus, looking out over the gardens, lake and surrounding park.

Living in hall allows you to relax and socialise on campus while being only a short walk away from the vibrant shops and nightlife of the West End.

Reid Hall has rooms with one, two and three beds. There are single-sex bathrooms on the corridors of each floor, as well as a small kitchen area with kettle, sink and microwave. Eight rooms can be adapted for disabled use and we have an accessible bathroom

Oliver Flats comprise four rooms, located in a corner of the campus separate from Reid Hall. There are three single rooms and one twin room, each with its own bathroom

The reception desk in Reid Hall is staffed 24 hours a day. All residents share the facilities in Reid Hall, which include a launderette and TV lounge. Residents are provided with fresh linen each week. All rooms have Wi-Fi access and residents have swipe-card access to the buildings.

Our resident assistants are here to help you as you settle into life at Regent's and offer advice and guidance.

Meal credit

Students living in University-managed housing on campus receive a meal credit swipe-card as part of their housing fees. The card contains a set amount of credit, which you can use to purchase soft drinks and food at any of the food outlets on campus. The meal credit card is also available to non-resident students and can be purchased online.

2017-18 rates

Weekly rates for one person, including meal credit:

Reid Hall

Single Room	£390
-------------	------

Twin Room	£320
-----------	------

Triple Room	£300
-------------	------

Oliver Flats

Single Room	£430
-------------	------

Twin Room	£390
-----------	------

- Damage deposit for all on-campus accommodation £200
- Fees are reviewed annually and may be subject to change. Please check our website for 2018-19 fees

Places in hall are in high demand, so please apply early. We give priority to students who are starting their first term and we allocate accommodation on a one-term basis.

'I lived in student accommodation for the first year, which was the best decision I made. I gained lifelong friends, and in our second year we all moved in together in a house. It's been the best experience.'

Gabriella Gerardi, UK,
BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing

regents.ac.uk/gabriella

Off-campus accommodation

In partnership with urbanest, Regent's offers rooms at urbanest St Pancras, arranged into self-contained studios, shared flats with en-suite rooms, three-bed shared flats and twin en-suite rooms, at a variety of price points. Located next to an idyllic British canal side, urbanest St Pancras is a short walk from King's Cross and Camden Town Tubes and multiple bus routes and just five minutes from the Eurostar terminal at St Pancras Station. It is also a 12-minute cycle from the University itself.

Every room is fully furnished and comes with 50Mbps internet access and Wi-Fi, under-floor heating and luxury showers. There is secure access to the building and rooms. Prices include utility bills. There is an on-site support team 24/7, dedicated to helping you with any problems and questions you may have.

Regent's staff attend the site regularly to provide support and advice. We have 39-week or 51-week contracts available.

Private-sector accommodation

If you prefer to arrange your own accommodation in the private sector, we can advise you on housing options and provide information on all aspects of private-sector housing, including residence halls, landlords, estate agents and homestays. You can sign up for housing updates by email at our website.

All the Support You Need

All students need different kinds of support at different times. We offer a comprehensive range of information, support and specialist advice to help you with any matter, whether personal, practical or academic.

The Student Hub

Whatever you need help with, your first stop should be the Regent's Student Hub. The staff here can assist you with many queries. They will also connect you with the experts within Regent's who can help with any issues you may have, whether they are personal, academic or financial. You can visit the Hub in person on campus, or find it online at hub.regents.ac.uk. You can book appointments online or find extensive information and guidance, as well as answers to many frequently asked questions.

Personal support

Our Student Support team is here to offer help and information when you need it, on a wide range of matters.

You can contact us at any point during your studies for:

Advice on academic matters, such as difficulties with studying, periods of absence or concerns about your course

Help with personal issues, from quick queries to issues that need a more in-depth response

Assistance with medical registration and finding the health services you need

Advice on budgeting and applying for the Hardship Fund

You can also pick up tips and advice from the regular information sessions we hold on the topics that are most important to students throughout the year.

Academic success

Developing your academic skills is an important part of successful study and your future career and we offer a wide range of support to help in all areas of your academic work.

Weekly workshops and drop-in sessions focus on all aspects of academic writing, critical thinking, effective reading, referencing and much more.

You can also get advice and guidance on your assignments through one-to-one tutorials with an academic skills tutor. These tutorials give you the opportunity to discuss your work and get advice on your assignments, as well as helping you to develop specific areas of your study skills.

Language learning

If you would like to improve your English, we offer a wide range of English language training options through our English Language Centre. You can also study one of nine economically important foreign languages. For further details, see page 18-19.

Healthcare

All students are entitled to free healthcare under the UK National Health Service, and to free accident and emergency hospital care while in the UK for six months or more. To gain your entitlement, it is vital that you register with a local NHS doctor. We can help you with this process.

Counselling

All students can use our Counselling Service, which is professional, confidential and free of charge. Counselling can help you deal with all kinds of issues, such as anxiety, depression, low self-esteem, coming out, grief and loss, trauma and relationship difficulties.

The emphasis is on helping you to make changes rather than on telling you what to do. If you could benefit from more specialist interventions or advice, we can refer you to resources within the NHS or the wider community.

‘One of the services that has helped me a lot is Academic Support. I regularly visit them for one-to-one sessions. It’s helped me to improve my writing a lot throughout my degree.’

Devika Vyas, UK,
BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing

regents.ac.uk/devika

Immigration and visas

Our Student Immigration Advisory Service team can help with questions about immigration and visas, assist you with online visa applications and oversee compliance with UK Visas and Immigration requirements.

The maximum amount of time that you can spend studying on a student visa in the UK at undergraduate and postgraduate degree level is five years.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you apply for the correct visa before you start your programme and comply with the conditions attached while you are studying.

You can contact us for help with your initial visa application once you have confirmed acceptance of a place at Regent’s. We are also here to help if you require a visa extension in the UK during your studies, and we can offer immigration advice for any future post-study plans.

Email visas@regents.ac.uk
Telephone +44 (0)20 7487 7563
Online regents.ac.uk/visa

Support for disabled students

We want all students to be able to participate fully as equal members of the learning community at Regent’s, and will make every reasonable effort to support you if you have a disability.

Disclosure of disability

If your condition meets the UK Equality Act’s definition of disability, and may affect your ability to participate fully in your studies or in campus life, please tell us about it when you apply, so that we can discuss your support needs with you at an early stage. If you have not already told us about a disability or support need, please contact the Disability Officer as soon as possible after you arrive.

Supporting documentation

If you have support needs due to a specific learning difficulty (e.g. dyslexia), please provide an up-to-date diagnostic report from an appropriately qualified professional so that we can assess your needs. The assessment must have been carried out when you were aged 16 or over.

For other disabilities, a detailed doctor’s letter is likely to be needed. If documentation is in a foreign language, please provide an English translation.

If you think you may have a specific learning difficulty, but have not been diagnosed, please ask the Disability Officer about our free screening service. Any data we collect about you is stored on the University’s secure student record system, which may only be seen by authorised staff.

Physical access to facilities

We are committed to improving access to and within the University buildings. There is a continuing programme to facilitate access around the campus. Some classes, however, take place in teaching rooms that can only be reached by stairs. If you require ground-floor rooms or rooms with lift access, the Disability Officer can help with making appropriate arrangements. Please let us know of your needs as early as possible.

Funding

UK students (and those with ‘settled’ status) may apply for the Disabled Students’ Allowance (DSA). Details on eligibility, what the DSA can be used for and how to apply can be found on our website. The Disability Officer can assist you with your application.

Details of possible funding for non-UK students to meet specific needs due to disability can be found on our website. You can also contact the Disability Officer for more information.

Student Disability Policy

You will find more information about the campus and the support available to you, plus a complete copy of the Student Disability Policy, on our website.

Email disability@regents.ac.uk
Telephone +44 (0)20 7487 7863
Online regents.ac.uk/disability

Learning Resources

We offer a wide range of resources to support your learning, both on and off campus. These include a well-provisioned library service, and extensive media and IT facilities, including campus-wide Wi-Fi coverage and an online virtual learning environment.

Libraries

The University Library Service gives you access to around 55,000 books, a wide range of academic and professional journals and online resources.

Specialist subject-related databases provide valuable and relevant information that you can use for course projects and assignments covering arts, humanities, social sciences, finance, business, management, fashion and design, and psychology. There are dedicated terminals for Bloomberg and DataStream services.

We subscribe to a wide variety of periodicals, both in hard copy and online, giving you access to the latest articles, from daily news to in-depth research studies.

Our library search point, RULDiscovery, means you can find books, ebooks, e-journals and database articles with a single search.

You will be given a general library induction, after which you can request additional sessions with an academic liaison librarian for individual or small-group information skills training. You are welcome to contact the academic liaison librarian for your programme at any time with specific enquiries and for one-to-one support.

There are dedicated spaces for studying, including group-study rooms and silent-study areas for independent learning. Our first-floor learning space allows you to study using mobile devices.

Library services are open during the week, evenings and weekends. During key exam periods there is 24/7 opening.

Online learning

Blackboard is the University's virtual learning environment (VLE), which gives you a single point of access to resources for your programme of study.

You can view module materials, use interactive tools such as discussion boards and wikis, submit assignments and receive feedback from your tutors.

Blackboard also provides you with access to a range of other useful resources for your studies.

Media services

All our classrooms are equipped with multimedia presentation systems and are connected to the internet and University computer network. These include interactive SMART Screens, visualisers and Blu-ray players across both campuses.

We offer a variety of media equipment that you can borrow including:

Professional video cameras

Lighting

Sound-recording equipment

Editing equipment

The equipment is regularly updated to meet the hi-tech requirements of today's learning environment and can be reserved online via the library catalogue.

IT resources

We offer a fast and reliable IT network, together with great support and an extensive range of online services to support and enhance your learning.

Wi-Fi is available throughout campus and you can access most software applications and your University IT account remotely at any time, from any internet-enabled device. You can also connect to the worldwide roaming Eduroam network. With our self-print service, you can securely collect your printed documents from any campus printer.

Our IT rooms are equipped with PCs and Apple Mac workstations, with a range of specialist software packages including AutoCAD, Microsoft Office and Adobe Suites. You can download your personal copy of Microsoft Office and anti-virus software to keep your devices up-to-date and secure.

The IT Service Desk is available to assist you with all your technology needs, offering 24/7 telephone support. Walk-in and email support services are also available during business hours.

MyRegent's App and Portal

You can access all your important information on the go. The MyRegent's app gives you instant access to:

- Course timetables
- Module information
- Your Regent's email
- A dynamic newsfeed that pulls information from the Student Hub
- Single sign-on with e:Vision
- Easy access to library information
- Access to the Student Union website and Student Hub

More functionality is planned and will be rolled out in various phases over the next year. MyRegent's is currently available for download for iOS and Android.

'As a student interested in film and media, discovering the TV studio, the catalogue of media services and the editing room was absolutely thrilling.'

Alexis Mulard, France,
BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production

regents.ac.uk/alexis

Languages at Regent's

Promoting language learning for all is a very important part of the University's international focus, and Regent's provides foreign and English language courses throughout the year. We teach in small groups to ensure you get the attention you need. Our English language courses are accredited by the British Council.

English language support

All the University's academic programmes are taught in English. Our experienced, highly qualified teachers can help you to improve your language skills in order to study most effectively.

Our English Language Centre offers you the option of studying English before you start your academic studies at the University, as well as providing classes and support as part of, or alongside, your degree.

Pre-sessional English courses

This course is designed specifically to prepare you for successful undergraduate study at Regent's. You will gain an overview of academic culture in the UK, develop your skills in general and academic English and learn about different types of academic assessment. On successful completion of the course, you will have developed all the essential skills needed for your degree.

In-sessional English courses

We also provide in-sessional academic English and study skills support throughout the academic year. These classes allow you to concentrate on the areas of English that you most need to improve and practise the skills you need for successful study.

IELTS exam course

This course is designed to prepare you for the IELTS (International English Language Testing System) examination. It aims to build your vocabulary and confidence in reading, writing, listening and speaking.

The course also focuses on the skills needed for successful study, such as listening skills for lectures, understanding academic texts, building your academic vocabulary, writing essays, exam techniques, and taking part in discussions, debates and presentations.

General English course

This course aims to improve your all-round ability in English with classes offered from pre-intermediate to advanced levels. The course covers the skills of reading, writing, listening and speaking, as well as focusing on grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation and aspects of British culture.

The course is designed to meet the needs of learners in a variety of situations, and aims to bridge the gap between the classroom and the real world.

Internship programmes

You can take a full-time English course followed by a full-time unpaid work placement. Work placements are allocated on arrival and can be arranged in almost any sector, including administration, finance and marketing. You will be able to improve your English and gain important international work experience. You will receive certificates from both the English course and the placement.

Language doctor

You can arrange one-to-one tutorial sessions with a member of staff from the English Language Centre to get help with individual language issues or concerns specific to your programme of study.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Variable

Email enquiries
elc@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7489

'I like to talk and learn about the other students' cultures and their respective countries. Regent's is so diverse. I now have friends from all over the globe, and it's really expanded my outlook on life.'

Jan Mariboe Nielsen, Denmark,
IELTS English student

regents.ac.uk/jan

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

8–10 weeks

Email enquiries

languages@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries

+44 (0)20 7487 7876

Learn a new language

In addition to your regular studies, you can choose to learn a new language, by attending an evening class.

Evening classes are open to all students and are taught by highly skilled professionals, experienced in teaching both general and business language courses.

Whether you are starting a new language or developing your knowledge, we have a course to suit you. We offer classes in:

Arabic	Italian	Portuguese
French	Japanese	Russian
German	Mandarin	Spanish

Our language tutors are all native speakers and use the latest multimedia resources and teaching methods. Group sizes are small, with typically between six and 15 students per class. This ensures a high level of interaction between student and tutor, and contributes to an excellent learning environment.

Courses run in three terms – autumn, spring and summer. The summer term starts in May and is an eight-week course, while the autumn and spring terms run for 10 weeks, allowing you to fit your language learning around your studies. Students benefit from a 50% discount on the full cost of a language course.

We offer classes at the following levels:

Beginners 1

This course is for students with no, or very little, knowledge of the language. It will enable you to grasp the basics of how the language operates. You will learn to have very simple conversations and exchange basic personal information, including your likes and dislikes.

Beginners 2

Students on this course will have some previous experience of language learning. You will start to engage in simple conversation on frequent and familiar topics, exchanging information about yourself and your routine, your interests and plans, travel and shopping.

Elementary

This course is for students who have a good knowledge of the basics of the language. By the end, you will be able to communicate with increased fluency and accuracy, talk about past experiences and future events, make suggestions and requests, and operate successfully in personal, social and some routine professional situations.

Intermediate

This course is aimed at students who have studied the language before and have a good knowledge, being able to communicate about standard situations, including talking about past events and the future. By the end of the course you will be able to communicate with greater fluency and accuracy with native speakers on frequent topics and in routine situations in personal, social and business contexts.

Proficient

Students who join this course will have a very good command of the language and its grammatical structures, as well as the ability to adapt their language to a wide range of settings. By the end, you will be able to use the language confidently, communicate with native speakers, engage in debates and use more sophisticated structures, and read and understand authentic written and aural texts.

Please note that not all levels may be offered for every language.

Study Abroad–Outbound

An international outlook and understanding of other cultures is an increasingly important part of student education. The opportunity to spend time abroad is part of the Regent's learning experience – one that distinguishes many of our programmes, and one that our students most look forward to.

Studying abroad is a stimulating and potentially life-changing experience. There is no question that you will come back a different person.

A period spent studying or working in another country adds value to your degree, showing that you can adapt to diverse academic and cultural environments. It is highly prized by employers, helping you to become a more flexible, experienced and confident business professional.

We have an extensive partnership network and work with universities across the world. We work with an elite group of business schools holding the coveted Triple Crown status and many internationally recognised institutions. Some of these include:

Copenhagen Business School

EDHEC Business School

Nova School of Business and Economics,
Universidade Nova de Lisboa

Queensland University of Technology

University of Technology Sydney

Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios
Superiores de Monterrey

Parsons, The New School

Fundação Getulio Vargas (FGV-EAESP)

You can find a comprehensive list of host institutions where you can study abroad on our website.

Skills you will gain from your time abroad

Enhanced cultural awareness and sensitivity

Greater independence and entrepreneurial skills

Improved communication skills

Extra self-confidence, resilience and determination

Exposure to different teaching practices

Expansion of your personal network of peer, academic and industry contacts

The opportunity to find out about prospects for employment or further study in a different country

Preparation for studying abroad

Studying abroad is a highly demanding experience, and you will need to be well prepared before you go. Our International Partnerships Office has a dedicated unit to support you at all stages.

Together with your Head of Programme and/or SPA Academic Advisers, we provide information on host institutions, and help you with the admissions process.

You will also be able to meet students who have been abroad and find out about their experiences.

To be eligible, you must meet all the progression requirements for your programme during your first terms at Regent's.

We remain available to support you throughout your experience, working closely with dedicated academic staff members to offer guidance before, during and after your time abroad.

While abroad, you continue to be a Regent's student and we will keep in regular contact with you to ensure that your time abroad is enjoyable and successful.

Email enquiries
outbound@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7871

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study-abroad

Study abroad opportunities

Business and language programmes

Students on the BA (Hons) International Business and BA (Hons) International Events Management degrees must complete up to two terms of study abroad.

You will undertake your study abroad in Year 3 in the language of your destination country. You will be able to reach a commanding level of fluency in the language, studying alongside students who are native speakers and, in most cases, taking the same examinations.

Film, Media and Performance

BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre, BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production and BA (Hons) Screenwriting & Producing students spend the second term of Year 2 at one of our partner institutions in Australia, the Czech Republic, Chile, Spain or the USA.

With the exception of Chile and one of our partners in Spain, all the classes you take will be taught in English.

Other programmes with optional study abroad

Students in the BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing and BA (Hons) Liberal Studies degree programmes may also complete an optional study period abroad during Year 2 of their studies. The choice of partner institution will depend on your programme of study or major.

This is an excellent opportunity to add value to your degree and set yourself apart from your peers.

‘I experienced a Study Abroad Period of one term in Monmouth University, New Jersey, USA. It was a truly eye-opening experience and it taught me more about the industry in USA which will be very helpful if I work there in the future.’

Jia Steven He, Ireland,
BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre

While you are abroad

You do not need to pay tuition fees to your host institution, as these are exchange programmes. You will continue to pay tuition fees to Regent’s University London during your time abroad. You will also be responsible for covering your travel and flight costs, accommodation fees and travel health insurance, plus a small administration cost for your study abroad.

During your time abroad, you continue to be a registered Regent’s student and have access to all online learning resources available on Blackboard. You will receive academic and administrative support from Regent’s staff as well as local support at our partner (your host) institution. Students gain Regent’s credits upon successful completion of their studies abroad.

Students studying abroad at eligible partner institutions or completing a traineeship in an eligible country are entitled to apply for funding through the Erasmus+ programme. This is the European Commission’s flagship educational programme. It encourages student mobility for work and study, and promotes transnational cooperation projects among universities across Europe. Over three million students have benefited from Erasmus since its introduction in 1987.

Inbound Short-term Study Abroad

Students from around the world can benefit from a short period of study abroad at Regent's. Come and experience all that the University and London have to offer.

We are a popular study abroad destination for students from all over the world who join us for one or two terms (in autumn or in spring) or an intensive summer programme.

Why study abroad for only a short time?

Attending university abroad for just one or two terms is a great option if you are experiencing limiting factors such as time or costs, or you do not wish to be away from home for the period required for a full degree.

Your home institution may also give you the option to transfer credits after completing a short summer programme or spending one term abroad.

A lifetime of benefits in a term

Participating in a study abroad programme is more than an academic adventure – it is a great way to live in another country and broaden your horizons.

Even if it's only for a few months or one academic year, the experience of studying at Regent's and enjoying life in a city as exciting as London is bound to be life-changing, invigorating and challenging.

You will benefit from a wealth of learning opportunities both inside and outside the classroom. Embrace it and your time at Regent's will have a lasting and positive influence on your life and future.

Eligibility for an inbound study abroad term

You must have completed at least one full year of study at a higher education institution. The typical study abroad student is in the second or third year of their degree programme at their home institution.

We welcome applications from independent students as well as undergraduates from institutions within our global partnership network, including Erasmus+ students.

What could you study?

Regent's offers a distinctive range of undergraduate degree programmes in business and management and the creative arts as well as an American-style liberal arts curriculum.

Your support network at Regent's

The Inbound Team at the International Partnerships Office is the main point of contact for all incoming study abroad and exchange students to Regent's.

We understand how important your term abroad is, and we work with you to make the most of your time in this vibrant city.

The team has considerable experience in providing advice, guidance and support. We ensure that you are fully integrated into the academic and social life on campus.

We will do our best to make your stay a memorable one by working closely with the relevant specialised departments and academics across campus as well as with your home institution.

London is your classroom

We make the most of the rich educational resources that London and its surroundings have to offer. Depending on the modules you choose, you may visit places such as the British Museum or the V&A, industry events and exhibitions, the Bloomberg offices, the Tate and National Galleries, or a theatre such as Shakespeare's Globe.

Email enquiries
inbound@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7727/ 3075 6245

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/inbound

'Studying abroad at Regent's University London was life changing. It gave me the opportunity to immerse myself in a new culture, while expanding my education not just in a classroom but throughout London as well. I would suggest this opportunity to anyone!'

Caitlin McMorrow, Study Abroad Student, College of Saint Scholastica, USA

'My study abroad semester at Regent's was the best time of my life. I made friends for life, learned a lot during lectures, enjoyed London and was able to perfect my English skills. An unforgettable experience!'

Susanne Faerber, Study Abroad Student, International School of Management, Germany

'Studying at Regent's is a very worthwhile opportunity because you are connected with people who are from all over the world and the experience is amazing. Don't lose your chance.'

Jesús Franco Muñoz, Study Abroad Student, Universidad San Pablo CEU, Spain

Preparing for Your Future

Our team of dedicated careers and business relations staff can offer a wealth of information, advice and guidance to help you secure your career goals. This includes extensive careers counselling, as well as assistance in finding an internship or a permanent job after graduation.

The Careers & Business Relations (CBR) team offers support throughout your time at Regent's to help you gain valuable work experience, build your employability skills and clinch that vital first job.

Employability skills workshops

We offer a range of practical workshops, open to all students, that will equip you with the broad skills necessary to be successful at all stages of the recruitment cycle.

Workshops cover a range of topics, including job-search strategies, writing a CV and covering letter, filling in application forms, preparing for interviews, networking and using social media.

We also run specialist workshops on starting a business and working in specific sectors, such as oil and gas, fashion and design, and business and finance.

Personalised careers guidance

You can arrange one-to-one appointments with your careers adviser, who will help with any questions you have and assist you in your job search. Making full use of this support will enable you to make genuine progress towards achieving a suitable role in your chosen field.

Career coaching sessions

Professional one-to-one career coaching sessions by industry specialists are available, helping you to increase your sector knowledge and build your professional network.

Careers events

Each term we organise a number of sector-specific seminars and networking events on campus. These are attended by many international companies and organisations and offer an invaluable opportunity to find out about employment prospects in different industries and business sectors, and develop your professional network.

Recent events have helped students find out more about careers in banking and finance, consulting, fashion, luxury brands, the media and the not-for-profit sector.

Online resources

In addition to regular face-to-face contact with our expert staff, you can access all the resources you need through our online Student Hub. These include advice sheets, videos and self-assessment tools.

Our online vacancies board advertises the latest internships, part-time work, volunteering, graduate and postgraduate opportunities available in the UK and globally. Students wishing to work abroad can consult the Going Global database.

Employers also use the Student Hub to advertise live business or consultancy projects that could make an interesting dissertation topic for students.

Work experience and internships

All students are strongly encouraged to undertake periods of work experience and internships during their time at Regent's, and on some programmes this is a compulsory requirement.

Such experience is invaluable and will greatly enhance your educational experience. We can provide support and guidance on finding internships and work placements.

Email enquiries
careers@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7419

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/careers

'Regent's students are well researched, passionate and serious about their own career path. They focus on the bigger, global picture rather than just business in their own sectors or countries – a rare and very value-added skill.'

Tom Lyas,
Resourcing manager and graduate recruiter for Tesco

93%

of Regent's alumni are employed or in further study six months after graduating*. Of those in employment, 82% are in graduate-level jobs – with average salaries in the top 10 of all universities in the UK.

* Higher Education Statistics Agency equivalent employment rate

'The Careers & Business Relations door is always open. The team has been very helpful in providing feedback on my CV, helping in a mock interview scenario and pointing out potential job opportunities tailored to me.'

Maxwell Fuller, USA,
BA (Hons) International Business with Spanish

regents.ac.uk/maxwell

Keeping in Touch

When you graduate from Regent's University London you automatically become a member of the Alumni Association, an exclusive club with a diverse and vibrant membership worldwide.

With more than 16,700 members in over 160 countries worldwide – graduates of the University's many different programmes – you will be part of a group that includes some of the most accomplished professionals in international business and industry, as well as practitioners in fields such as counselling, media, international relations and design.

Membership of the Alumni Association is free and offers many benefits, including networking opportunities, continuing careers information and support, regular events and access to the library and IT support centre.

You will be invited to regular reunions and events with other alumni and teaching staff, as well as members of the wider University community of students.

If you move away from the UK after graduation, we hope you will join one of the growing number of Regent's Clubs based in cities all over the world – there are now more than 40 globally. You may even like to coordinate one yourself in your hometown.

With regular e-communications and a dedicated magazine, we will keep you in touch with University and alumni news and informed about new alumni benefits and opportunities as they are launched.

There are also opportunities for you to put your post-Regent's experience to work, helping current and prospective students as an alumni volunteer or mentor.

Just keep us informed of your contact details and email address after graduation.

Email enquiries
alumni@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7599

Sandra Mitrovic graduated from Regent's with a BA (Hons) in Film, TV & Digital Media Production. She has gone on to undertake her Master of Fine Arts at Columbia University School of the Arts, where she has made three short films, written two feature film scripts, and directed a music video. She is currently developing a TV pilot.

Neku Atawodi, Nigeria, MA Management (2010) is the world's first black female professional polo player, and has founded a hotel, crowdfunding platform and non-profit organisation.

Makhdoom Fakhar Zaman, BA (Hons) Global Management, (2014), was elected as Chairman of Pakistan's Matiari District, making him – at 25 – the youngest-ever district council chairman in the country's history.

'Some of my best friends today are people that I met at Regent's. That is very valuable – having friends and contacts in most major cities in the world. My Regent's degree allowed me to get accepted in one of the top five film schools in the world, at an Ivy League university. I still keep in touch and I feel very welcome every time I visit Regent's.'

Sandra Mitrovic, Serbia,
BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production
(Class of 2014)

Degree Programmes

Business & Management	30
Integrated Business Foundation	32
BA (Hons) Global Management with Pathways	34
Enterprise & Innovation Pathway	36
Finance Pathway	37
Management & Leadership Pathway	38
Marketing Pathway	39
BA (Hons) International Business	40
BA (Hons) International Events Management	44
The Language of Business	48
Fashion & Design	50
Integrated Design Foundation	52
BA (Hons) Fashion Design	54
BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing	56
BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing	58
BA (Hons) Interior Design	60
Film, Media & Performance	62
Acting Foundation	64
BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre	66
Integrated Media Production Foundation	68
BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production	70
BA (Hons) Screenwriting & Producing	72
Liberal Arts & Humanities	74
BA (Hons) Liberal Studies with Majors	76
Psychology	100
Integrated Psychology Foundation	102
BSc (Hons) Psychology	104

Business & Management

Regent's offers a world-class business education delivered in a cosmopolitan, multilingual and dynamic learning environment. An international perspective is at the heart of everything we do. We focus on practical learning, language and cultural study. Work experience and study abroad will give you the edge in your future career.

Business & Management at Regent's:

Is centred on people

Places ethics, social and environmental responsibility at the core of management

Fosters creativity and innovation to drive business growth

Nurtures intercultural intelligence

This approach will help you to thrive in modern transnational organisations and navigate the global business world.

Our students develop:

Professional acumen

Creative confidence

Intercultural intelligence

Connectedness

Our degrees draw on real-life business challenges by blending formal academic delivery with practical application. Our academic staff have wide-ranging business experience and research interests. They combine strong academic credentials with current, real-world experience to give you excellent practical training.

You will have many opportunities to engage with the wider aspects of life, being at a university that is both based in London and strongly international in outlook.

International focus

Studying at Regent's gives you exclusive access to a highly cosmopolitan environment. There are more than 140 nationalities represented in our student body and our staff come from a wide variety of cultural backgrounds.

As part of the diverse University community, you learn to appreciate alternative perspectives and can develop your personal international network of colleagues, friends and potential business partners.

Opportunities for study abroad

If you choose the BA (Hons) International Business or BA (Hons) International Events Management, periods of study abroad will form a key part of your degree, and will last for up to a year.

We have established links with more than 100 partner institutions worldwide. You will also have invaluable opportunities to broaden your international business connections and develop fluent language skills in your studies at Regent's.

Language and learning

In today's global environment, business-level fluency in more than one language is vital. You have options to study economically important languages such as Chinese and Russian (see page 48 for more details).

Practical learning

Our programmes thrive on student participation. You will apply your learning to problems, challenges or situations that are realistic reflections of the latest developments in global business.

Your degree will involve work experience and placements, ensuring you have plenty of practical experience and excellent connections by the time you graduate.

We encourage you to engage with the wider world of global business on campus and beyond through seminars, conferences, presentations, visits and guest speakers.

We want you to make the most your potential and will do everything we can to support your growth and development.

'Studying at Regent's gives me excellent opportunities – not just to learn here in the biggest financial centre in the world – but also to make fantastic connections in the areas I study.'

Dhanuka Warnakulasuriya, UK,
BA (Hons) Global Management
with Integrated Foundation

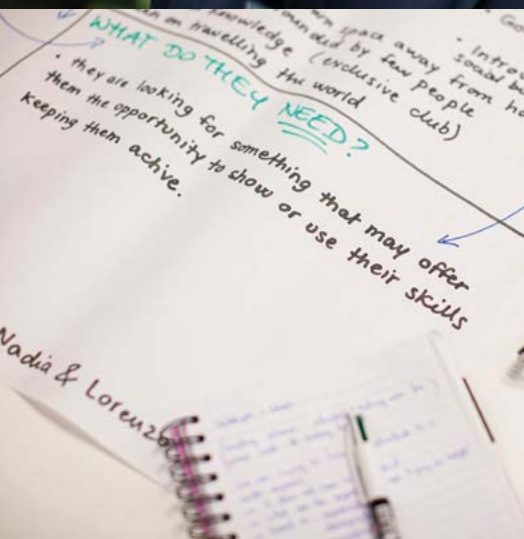

regents.ac.uk/dhanuka

Future opportunities

Regent's graduates enjoy a high rate of employment on completing their programmes. In 2015-16, more than 90% of our Business & Management graduates were employed or in further study six months after graduation, and the annual salaries they earned were considerably above the national average.

We are very proud of our growing body of influential alumni, many of whom occupy high-profile positions throughout the world, particularly in the fields of banking and finance, marketing and communications, public relations and consultancy.

Entrepreneurship is a strong theme of many of our programmes, and increasingly our graduates are setting up their own companies, as well as continuing a well-established trend of working in family business. Of our recent graduates, 24% identified themselves as self-employed or starting up their own businesses.

Integrated Business Foundation

The Integrated Business Foundation year will prepare you for entry into one of our Business & Management degrees. It offers a thorough grounding in business subjects and will help you to develop the skills you need for study at degree level.

If your present qualifications do not permit direct entry to study at UK degree level, we offer a year of foundation studies which, if you complete it satisfactorily, guarantees entry to the following degree programmes:

BA (Hons) Global Management with Pathways

BA (Hons) International Business

BA (Hons) International Events Management

The foundation year is carefully designed to focus on the academic areas most useful to your future studies. We place great emphasis on encouraging you to reflect on your learning and to be an increasingly self-motivated and independent learner.

What will I study?

The Integrated Foundation programmes consist of six business modules:

Business Management and Problem Solving

Entrepreneurial Simulation

Numeracy and Analysis for Business

Personal Impact

The World of Business

Working with Others

Some students may also be required to complete an Additional English module.

Learning and assessment

You will learn through a wide range of teaching methods including tutor-led lectures and workshops, group and individual presentations, simulations, case studies, reading and research leading to discussions, and workshop exercises.

Your progress will be assessed using a variety of methods, including reflective reviews, exercises focused on practical business problems, presentations and case studies. These become progressively more challenging and demanding throughout the foundation year, preparing you for the requirements of degree-level study.

Next steps

Your foundation year will give you the knowledge and skills you need to progress on to further study. You will be able to develop and refine your areas of interest, and this will help you to choose the correct course of study for you.

For more information on each of the degree programmes, see:

BA (Hons) Global Management with Pathways (see page 34)

BA (Hons) International Business (see page 40)

BA (Hons) International Events Management (see page 44)

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

1 year full time

Start dates

January
and September

'In my Foundation year, I've learned a lot about how to work with my classmates. I'm also gaining a basic understanding in many different areas, such as international relations.'

Steve Wu Ho, Costa Rica,
BA (Hons) Global Management
with Integrated Business Foundation

regents.ac.uk/steve

BA (Hons) Global Management with Pathways

Successful management embraces a global perspective that connects people, digital technologies and economic opportunities. We believe in fostering students' entrepreneurial aspirations and in allowing them to tailor a programme to embrace the specialism that best suits their ambitions.

To succeed in a highly competitive global marketplace, graduates must combine broad business knowledge with analytical and creative skills.

You will study key business theories and develop critical awareness of different ideas, contexts and frameworks.

Building on this, you will learn to analyse and evaluate a range of management and business information or issues using well-accepted principles in a global context.

You will learn to use creative as well as strategic approaches, both in your coursework and your understanding of business issues.

As you progress, you will take increasing responsibility for your own learning and development, using reflection and feedback, study and investigative strategies.

The programme will prepare you for the challenges of a global management career where you will need a broad set of core business skills, as well as giving you diverse subject-specific expertise.

What will I study?

The first year offers a solid grounding in business and management subjects, giving you the necessary skills and understanding to progress to your chosen pathway specialisation in the second year.

Specialist pathways

We offer four specialist pathways:

Enterprise & Innovation

Finance

Leadership & Management

Marketing

You will be asked to indicate your preferred pathway when you apply. However, you have until the end of your first year to confirm your choice.

In Years 2 and 3 you will continue to take a number of core modules, as well as gaining specialist knowledge through dedicated pathway modules.

You will also be able to choose a number of elective modules to personalise your studies. These include specialist electives for your pathway as well as electives from a University-wide selection to broaden your study and experience.

For further details, see the individual pathway descriptions on pages 36–39.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

3 years full time

4 years with
Foundation

Start dates

January
and September

Programme structure

Year 1

Academic Environment

Accounting and Finance

Analytical Tools and Techniques for Business

Business Economics

Global Perspectives

People and Organisations

Principles of Marketing

Plus

One Regent's elective module*

Year 2

Introduction to Business Law

Strategic Management

Sustainability

Plus

Two core modules specific to your pathway

One elective module specific to your pathway

Two Regent's elective modules*

Year 3

Optimising Operations and Change

Plus

Four modules specific to your pathway

An elective module specific to your pathway

You will also choose another elective module from any across the BA (Hons) Global Management at Year 3 level.

For further details, see the individual pathway descriptions on pages 36–39.

*The Regent's elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See panel for options.

Pathway Capstone

The Capstone is the final and summative module that allows you to apply all the knowledge and experience you have gained on your pathway to a practical project.

Extracurricular activities

There are plenty of opportunities for you to join in with extracurricular activities on and off campus. These include events with prominent guest speakers, presentations, conferences, competitions, university societies, Student Union membership and becoming a student representative.

The more you take part in these activities and develop your unique experience at university, the more you will add to your personal development plan and ultimately, to your CV once you graduate.

Learning and assessment

The programme involves many conventional and innovative learning opportunities, to give you an experience which is both rigorous academically, as well as interactive and engaging. You will have plenty of opportunities for practical, hands-on work to enhance your CV.

Learning techniques include 'flipped classrooms', workshops, small group research projects, individual tutorials and a range of 'outside-in' methods such as guest speakers, visits to key locations, exhibitions, events and co-curricular activity, as well as experiential learning events both on and off campus.

Throughout your studies, you will receive timely and constructive feedback so you can develop and improve your work. Assessments are relevant and authentic, based on real-world cases and situations.

Assessment methods may include reports, group or individual presentations, examinations, essays, timed tasks or exercises, case-study analysis, project work and events created and delivered by students.

Regent's elective modules

In addition to your programme modules, you will be able to choose from a selection of Regent's elective modules to further diversify your learning. These may include:

Acting Studio

Applied Ethics

Art and Business

Career Management

Computer Applications

Contemporary African Politics and History

Energy Security and Economics

Global Human Trafficking

History of London

Interactive Media

Introducing Psychology

Introduction to Human Rights

Introduction to Philosophy

Introduction to Public Relations Strategy and Management

Introduction to Sociology

London's Literature

Management Information Systems

Media and Ethics

Politics of Development

Skills of Argumentation and Debate

Studies in Music History

The Psychology of Fashion

The World's Religions

Understanding Social Media

Please note, not all elective modules are available every term.

BA (Hons) Global Management Enterprise & Innovation Pathway

How do you turn an idea into a viable business proposition? Where are the gaps in the marketplace? In today's world, business moves fast, and the ability to develop a new idea and take it to market quickly is crucial. This pathway helps you to develop and hone your entrepreneurial skills for future success.

The Enterprise & Innovation Pathway enables you to develop your skills and test your capacity for innovative endeavour.

Businesses rely on enterprise and innovation to ensure sustained growth and ability to meet challenges. It is this enterprising spirit that enables managers to turn their business into market leaders, shaping the next product or service innovation.

From how to launch a new venture, to the role of mobile technologies and digital organisations, you will have the opportunity to explore both theory and practice in entrepreneurship as you consider possible new start-ups.

What will I study?

In the first year you will follow the same core modules as all students on the BA (Hons) Global Management (see page 35).

In the second and third years, your studies will combine general and pathway-specific core modules, as well as a selection from a wide range of elective modules.

Some of these electives are pathway-specific, while others allow you to extend your experience in other areas, broadening your scope and making your degree unique and tailor-made.

Year 2

Entrepreneurial Theory and Practice

Introduction to Business Law

New Venture Modelling and Planning

Strategic Management

Sustainability

Plus one of the following:

Entrepreneurship Finance and Venture Capital

International Business Law

Project Management for Enterprise

Web and App Design for Innovation

Plus

Two Regent's elective modules*

Year 3

Managing Entrepreneurial Growth in SMEs and Family Businesses

Optimising Operations and Change

Social Enterprise

Strategic Entrepreneurship and Innovation

Enterprise in Action (Capstone)

Plus one of the following:

Entrepreneurship Finance and Venture Capital

International Business Law

Project Management for Enterprise

Web and App Design for Innovation

You will also choose another elective module from any across the BA (Hons) Global Management at Year 3 level.

*The Regent's elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See page 35 for options.

BA (Hons) Global Management Finance Pathway

How do you finance a business? How do the financial markets affect on your business and the wider world? How do different financial systems around the world operate and interact? This comprehensive programme gives you the insights and knowledge you need to work confidently in the worlds of finance and accounting.

Finance plays a crucial role in any organisation, and is fundamental to management decision-making.

Financiers must have expertise both in gathering data and analysing information to aid business planning.

This pathway gives you a solid grounding for a wide range of career options in this fascinating and influential field.

You will explore the financial parameters of business planning, performance and evaluation. You will also learn how financial intermediaries and institutions work, and study the structure of financial markets and how they function.

The pathway examines alternative approaches to finance, other than current Western standards, and considers the impact of digital technologies on the world of finance.

What will I study?

In the first year you will follow the same core modules as all students on the BA (Hons) Global Management (see page 35).

In the second and third years, your studies will combine general and pathway-specific core modules, as well as a selection from a wide range of elective modules.

Some of these electives are pathway-specific, while others allow you to extend your experience in other areas, broadening your scope and making your degree unique and tailor-made.

Year 2

Introduction to Business Law

Principles of Investment Management

Quantitative Analysis for Finance and Investment

Strategic Management

Sustainability

Plus one of the following:

Corporate Governance and Global Financial Ethics

Global Banking

Islamic Finance

Mergers and Acquisitions

Plus

Two Regent's elective modules*

Year 3

International Finance

Managerial Finance

Optimising Operations and Change

Wealth Management

Contemporary Finance in Action (Capstone)

Plus one of the following:

Corporate Governance and Global Financial Ethics

Global Banking

Islamic Finance

Mergers and Acquisitions

You will also choose another elective module from any across the BA (Hons) Global Management at Year 3 level.

*The Regent's elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See page 35 for options.

BA (Hons) Global Management Leadership & Management Pathway

Can you imagine what the world will be like in 10 years' time? How will the geopolitical landscape have changed? What technological advances will we see? For modern businesses to flourish, they will need dynamic forward-thinking leadership.

The Leadership & Management Pathway will equip you with the skills you need to become a business leader of the future. It has a particular focus on proactive decision-making.

Today's graduate employment climate is changing rapidly, influenced by technological change and events which reshape political landscapes worldwide.

Drawing on a wide-ranging portfolio of leadership and management skills, you will be well placed to respond to changing business needs. You will learn to recognise and maximise new opportunities, and use your resilience and adaptability to navigate those changes.

You will explore the challenges of management practice from the perspective of a manager and a leader. You will learn to manage supply chains as well as infuse businesses with creativity.

What will I study?

For the first year of your programme, you will follow the same core modules as all students on the BA (Hons) Global Management (see page 35).

In the second and third years, your studies will combine general and pathway-specific core modules, as well as a selection from a wide range of elective modules.

Some of these electives are pathway-specific, while others allow you to extend your experience in other areas, broadening your scope and making your degree unique and tailor-made.

Year 2

Creativity and Innovation in the Organisation

Introduction to Business Law

Strategic Management

Supply Chain Management

Sustainability

Plus one of the following:

Corporate and Management Law

Global Family Business

International HRM

Visual Analytics and Big Data Management

Plus

Two Regent's elective modules*

Year 3

Critical Issues in Leadership

Leadership, Change & Governance

Managing Digital Organisations

Optimising Operations and Change

Contemporary Management in Action
(Capstone)

Plus one of the following:

Corporate and Management Law

Global Family Business

International HRM

Visual Analytics and Big Data Management

You will also choose another elective module from any across the BA (Hons) Global Management at Year 3 level.

*The Regent's elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See page 35 for options.

BA (Hons) Global Management Marketing Pathway

Who is your customer? What do they want? Who are your competitors? Successful marketing is the point where business know-how and strategy meets creativity. This pathway gives you insights into this exciting and fast-moving aspect of the world of business.

The Marketing Pathway explores contemporary marketing strategy and practice, tapping into the latest developments in the global marketplace.

The key to effective marketing and business success is understanding and responding to what customers tell you.

You will focus on every aspect of marketing, from the research phase to the product, from identifying customers to creating a promotional campaign, and from sales forecasts to marketing strategy.

You will study traditional approaches to marketing, as well as examining and developing new approaches.

Your knowledge and hands-on experience will help you to respond to today's constantly evolving marketplace.

What will I study?

For the first year of your programme, you will follow the same core modules as all students on the BA (Hons) Global Management (see page 35).

In the second and third years, your studies will combine general and pathway-specific core modules, as well as a selection from a wide range of elective modules.

Some of these electives are pathway-specific, while others allow you to extend your experience in other areas, broadening your scope and making your degree unique and tailor-made.

Year 2

Introduction to Business Law

Marketing Communications

Marketing Research

Strategic Management

Sustainability

Plus one of the following:

Brand Strategy

Essential Law for Marketers

PR and Corporate Communications

Services Marketing

Plus

Two Regent's elective modules*

Year 3

Consumer and Marketing Psychology

Digital Marketing and Data Analytics

Marketing Strategy

Optimising Operations and Change

Contemporary Marketing in Action
(Capstone)

Plus one of the following:

Brand Strategy

Essential Law for Marketers

PR and Corporate Communications

Services Marketing

You will also choose another elective module from any across the BA (Hons) Global Management at Year 3 level.

*The Regent's elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See page 35 for options.

Today's business leaders are looking for graduates who have an international perspective, excellent linguistic skills and can work in multi-disciplinary, multicultural teams in many different locations.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration4 years full time including one year abroad5 years with Foundation including one year abroadStart datesJanuary
and September

BA (Hons) International Business

Global business leaders need an education that gives them the broadest understanding of the complexities of the world in which they operate, both now and in the future.

This programme offers an international and cross-cultural view of the international business world, enabling you to develop the skills and approach to lead people in a complex and changing environment.

Internationalism, innovation and employability are the key themes of the BA (Hons) International Business.

You will develop a broad base of business, management, intercultural and language skills which will equip you as an international leader, strategist and decision-maker of the future.

Your language skills, international outlook and work experience will make you one of the most employable graduates on the market.

What will I study?

The programme is structured in three main parts:

In Years 1 and 2 you study at Regent's

In Year 3, you spend time at one or more of our partner institutions on two Study Periods Abroad (SPA). Alternatively, you may replace one of your SPAs with a Placement Learning Project (PLP).

In Year 4, you return to Regent's to complete your degree

You will take a range of core business modules, to build broad business knowledge, plus one or two language modules. Some students may be required to complete a module in English language study.

You will also choose from a range of elective modules specific to your programme (see page 43), as well as Regent's elective modules, a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University that allow you to further diversify your learning (see page 41).

Programme structureYear 1

Academic Environment

Analytical Tools and Techniques for Business

Accounting and Finance

Business Economics

Global Perspectives

People and Organisations

Language Module

Plus

One Regent's elective module*

Year 2

International Business

Introduction to Business Law

Language Module

Marketing Principles

Sustainability

Plus

Two Regent's elective modules*

One elective module specific to the BA (Hons) International Business (see page 43).

‘Languages and cultural awareness are key to conducting international business in today’s environment. In my foundation year I took the opportunity to study Japanese and Japanese customs in business. In my degree I’ve studied Spanish and I’ve been able to study and work abroad for one year.’

Maxwell Fuller, USA,
BA (Hons) International Business

regents.ac.uk/maxwell

Year 3

You will complete one or two periods of study abroad (SPA), taking specialist elective modules at your host institution.

You may replace your second SPA with a Placement Learning Project (PLP).

Term 1

SPA linked to your language study

Term 2

Second SPA linked to your language study

OR Placement Learning Project

Year 4

Language Module

Leading with Intercultural Intelligence

Planning a New Venture

Strategic Management in Theory and Practice

Applied Business Project (Capstone)

Plus

Two elective modules specific to the BA (Hons) International Business (see page 43).

Regent’s elective modules

In addition to your programme modules, you will be able to choose from a selection of Regent’s elective modules to further diversify your learning. These may include:

Acting Studio
Applied Ethics
Art and Business
Career Management
Computer Applications
Contemporary African Politics and History
Energy Security and Economics
Global Human Trafficking
History of London
Interactive Media
Introducing Psychology
Introduction to Human Rights
Introduction to Philosophy
Introduction to Public Relations Strategy and Management
Introduction to Sociology
London’s Literature
Management Information Systems
Media and Ethics
Politics of Development
Skills of Argumentation and Debate
Studies in Music History
The Psychology of Fashion
The World’s Religions
Understanding Social Media

Please note, not all elective modules are available every term.

*The Regent’s elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See panel for options.

BA (Hons) International Business (continued from previous page)

International languages

Speaking more than one language is essential for working across international boundaries. You will choose to study one of the following languages (subject to availability):

Chinese

French

German

Italian

Japanese

Russian

Spanish

If your competence in a language is already at native-speaker level, you cannot choose to study that language.

You can either study a language as a complete beginner or choose a language that you already speak up to an intermediate level of competence. You can also choose to study a second foreign language as an elective.

Your language studies progress in six stages, from getting started, through business level to mastery, or fluency.

After you complete your SPA year, we will assess your competence in your chosen language. In your final year, you will have the opportunity to continue study the language in a number of ways:

The 'Language for Professionals' module prepares you for different labour markets and cultural ways of working. Its emphasis is to develop your linguistic ability in a business and professional context

The 'Language in the Global World' module will help you to further develop a high degree of fluency and communicative competence in your chosen language, through experiencing the social, academic and professional environments in countries where the language is spoken

Depending on your language level, you may be able to take one or both of these modules.

Study Period Abroad (SPA)

Studying abroad is an invaluable opportunity to immerse yourself in your chosen language and experience the culture of another country.

The SPA in Year 3 gives you the chance to experience a completely different academic environment, with different teaching styles and systems. The language you choose will dictate the countries where you could undertake your SPA.

We have partnerships with over 100 institutions around the world. The University's International Partnerships Office will support you before, during and after your SPA.

Placement Learning Project (PLP)

In Year 3, you have the choice to undertake a second SPA, or you can undertake a PLP. This is a 4-5 month module (16 weeks minimum) where you will have the chance to use your theoretical business knowledge in a real-life industry environment.

You will undertake an internship placement and will complete a number of academic submissions, supervised by your tutor.

Work placements/internships

Work placements are an integral part of the programme. You will take a minimum of two 8-week work placements before the final year of study. These form the basis of your reflection and investigation for your final-year Capstone module – Applied Business Project.

The University's Careers & Business Relations team will support you throughout your placement.

Extracurricular activities

There are plenty of opportunities for you to join in with extracurricular activities on and off campus. These include events with prominent guest speakers, presentations, conferences, competitions, university societies, Student Union membership and becoming a student representative.

The more you take part in these activities and develop your unique experience at university, the more you will add to your personal development plan and ultimately, to your CV once you graduate.

Learning and assessment

The programme involves many conventional and innovative learning opportunities, to give you an experience which is both rigorous academically, as well as interactive and engaging. You will have plenty of opportunities for practical, hands-on work to enhance your CV.

Learning techniques include 'flipped classrooms', workshops, small group research projects, individual tutorials and a range of 'outside-in' methods such as guest speakers, visits to key locations, exhibitions, events and co-curricular activity, as well as experiential learning events both on and off campus.

Throughout your studies, you will receive timely and constructive feedback so you can develop and improve your work. Assessments are relevant and authentic, based on real-world cases and situations.

Assessment methods may include reports, group or individual presentations, examinations, essays, timed tasks or exercises, case-study analysis, project work and events created and delivered by students.

Elective modules specific to your programme

Brand Strategy
Consumer and Marketing Psychology
Corporate and Management Law
Corporate Governance and Global Financial Ethics
Critical Issues in Leadership
Digital Marketing and Data Analytics
Entrepreneurship Finance and Venture Capital
Essential Law for Marketers
Global Banking
Global Family Business
International Business Law
International Finance
International HRM
Islamic Finance
Leadership, Change and Governance
Managerial Finance
Managing Digital Organisations
Managing Entrepreneurial Growth in SMEs and Family Businesses
Marketing Strategy
Mergers and Acquisitions
PR and Corporate Communications
Project Management for Enterprise
Services Marketing
Social Enterprise
Strategic Entrepreneurship and Innovation
Visual Analytics and Big Data Management
Wealth Management
Web and App Design for Innovation

Please note that not all elective modules may be available every term.

BA (Hons) International Events Management

All events must be planned, organised and managed, from small private functions to world events. This fast-growing sector of the global marketing industry needs managers with skills in handling people, projects and budgets, often across international boundaries.

This programme will equip you with essential knowledge and skills for all stages of the events management process.

You will learn about conceptualising and planning projects, venue selection, budgeting and marketing, design, staging and operations management.

You will learn to produce creative solutions under pressure and to work with different specialists in planning and delivering events of varying size and complexity. You will also take an analytical look at the industry, learn about its history and assess future developments.

You will be involved in a range of international projects within the events industry, including associations with global corporate and sporting organisations.

Projects take place both within and outside London and the UK, enabling you to apply your academic skills to live scenarios.

Recent examples include event volunteering opportunities with the Aspire Spinal Injuries Charity, Barclays Bank, American Express, Imagination (global events agency), FreemanXP (global events agency) and a collaboration with the International PowerBoat Association.

Every year we organise a city visit with a combination of industry guest lectures, seminars and site visits to understand and appreciate the value of business tourism and events to the chosen destination. Such activities offer you an excellent opportunity to gain a first-hand appreciation and knowledge of the importance of the industry from a wide variety of experts.

What will I study?

You will study a number of core modules to build broad knowledge of business and the events management industry. You will also choose from a range of elective modules.

Some students may be required to complete a module in English language study.

All our students spend two terms away from the University in Year 3. This gives you the opportunity to either continue studying your chosen language, or to combine one term of study with a second term conducting a Placement Learning Project (PLP) within an industry-related organisation.

International languages

Speaking more than one language is highly beneficial for working across international boundaries. You will have the option to study one of seven commercially important languages:

Chinese
French
German
Italian
Japanese
Russian
Spanish

Languages are taught with a focus on professional communication skills, which prepares you to succeed in your Study Period Abroad and beyond.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

4 years full time

5 years with
Foundation

Start date

September

Programme structure

Year 1

Academic Environment

Accounting and Finance

Analytical Tools and Techniques for Business

Global Perspectives

Introduction to Marketing for the Events Industry

Introduction to the International Events Planning Industry

Plus one language (Stage 2 or above) or elective module and one Regent's elective module*

Year 2

Events Planning and Production

Integrated Marketing Communication for Events

International Destination Management

Introduction to Business Law

Managing HR in the Events Industry

Sustainability

Plus one language or elective module and two Regent's elective modules *

Year 3

In Year 3 you will complete one or two periods of study abroad (SPA), taking specialist elective modules at your host institution.

You may replace your second SPA term with a Placement Learning Project (PLP).

Term 1

SPA linked to your primary language study

Term 2

SPA linked to your primary language study

OR Placement Learning Project

Year 4

Fashion, Music and Sports Event Management

International Business Strategy in Events

International Tourism and Event Studies

Special Events Management and the User Experience

Events in Action (Capstone)

You will also choose three modules from:

Cross Cultural Perspectives in Management

Luxury Brand Management and International Events

Services Marketing

Language

Free Option  (you may select two of these)

*The Regent's elective module is a free choice for students to choose a module in any discipline across the University, subject to availability. See panel for options.

 You may choose elective modules from the BA (Hons) International Business or BA (Hons) Global Management degrees (see pages 36–39 and 43), offering a further opportunity for specialisation and focus in the subject area.

Regent's elective modules

In addition to your programme modules, you will be able to choose from elective modules to further diversify your learning. These may include:

Acting Studio

Applied Ethics

Art and Business

Career Management

Computer Applications

Contemporary African Politics and History

Energy Security and Economics

Global Human Trafficking

History of London

Interactive Media

Introducing Psychology

Introduction to Human Rights

Introduction to Philosophy

Introduction to Public Relations Strategy and Management

Introduction to Sociology

London's Literature

Management Information Systems

Media and Ethics

Politics of Development

Skills of Argumentation and Debate

Studies in Music History

The Psychology of Fashion

The World's Religions

Understanding Social Media

Please note, not all elective modules are available every term.

BA (Hons) International Events Management (continued from previous page)

Study Period Abroad (SPA)

Studying abroad is an invaluable opportunity to immerse yourself in your chosen language and experience the culture of another country.

The SPA in Year 3 gives you the chance to experience a completely different academic environment, with different teaching styles and systems. The language you choose will dictate the countries where you could undertake your SPA.

We have partnerships with over 100 institutions around the world. The University's International Partnerships Office will support you before, during and after your SPA.

Placement Learning Project (PLP)

In Year 3 you have the choice to undertake a second SPA, or you can undertake a PLP. Your Placement Learning Project (PLP) must take place within an industry-related organisation. You can choose to conduct the PLP in a country where your chosen language is spoken, or in an English-speaking country if appropriate.

Work placements/internships

Work experience is a vital component of the programme and you will complete a minimum of 16 weeks of full-time industry work experience prior to graduation.

These weeks will ideally be completed in summer or Christmas holiday periods, and you will preferably be employed in the international events industry (event management agencies, corporates, international professional associations, events venues, destination management companies, event suppliers, tourism and hospitality operators, and high-profile international brands).

The University's Careers & Business Relations team will support you throughout your placement.

Extracurricular activities

There are plenty of opportunities for you to join in with extracurricular activities on and off campus. These include events with prominent guest speakers, presentations, conferences, competitions, university societies, Student Union membership and becoming a student representative.

The more you take part in these activities and develop your unique experience at university, the more you will add to your personal development plan and ultimately, to your CV once you graduate.

Learning and assessment

The programme involves many conventional and innovative learning opportunities, to give you an experience which is both rigorous academically, as well as interactive and engaging. You will have plenty of opportunities for practical, hands-on work to enhance your CV.

Learning techniques include 'flipped classrooms', workshops, small group research projects, individual tutorials and a range of 'outside-in' methods such as guest speakers, visits to key locations, exhibitions, events and co-curricular activity, as well as experiential learning events both on and off campus.

Throughout your studies, you will receive timely and constructive feedback so you can develop and improve your work. Assessments will be relevant, and authentic, based on real-world cases and situations.

Assessment methods may include reports, group or individual presentations, examinations, essays, timed tasks or exercises, case-study analysis, project work and events created and delivered by students.

'I chose to study at Regent's because of the programme design. It had all I dreamed of: exchange year, language, work experience, events theory and an international environment, yet based in central London.'

Ebba Nogeman Korner, Sweden,
BA (Hons) International Events Management

The Language of Business

Language study and study abroad are key components of many of our degrees, and all students are encouraged to take advantage of the wide choice of language study on offer at Regent's. You can study at a variety of levels, choosing from seven different, commercially important languages.

Chinese

Chinese is spoken by more people than any other language in the world. China has one of the world's oldest and richest continuous cultures, and is the world's second-largest economy. You could choose to study at one of our prestigious partner universities in Nanjing, Beijing or Shanghai and will learn to communicate fluently in both general and business Chinese.

French

French is one of the official languages of the European Union, the United Nations and Canada, with almost 113 million speakers worldwide. For your study period abroad, you could study French in countries such as Canada, Lebanon and Morocco as well as France, Belgium and Switzerland. You will gain professional language skills and be able to work with confidence in a French-speaking environment.

German

German is the language of the largest EU economy and main EU exporter. Germany is home to many international corporations. It is the EU country with the largest population, and with Austria and Switzerland, its language has almost 100 million native speakers. Four of the world's 10 most innovative companies and two-thirds of the world's leading international trade fairs are based in Germany. You could spend time in Austria, Switzerland or Germany.

Italian

Italian means business, as well as language and culture. You could live in cities such as Milan or Rome and learn about business opportunities in the world's eighth-largest economy. Key industries include fashion, design, cars and – of course – food and catering. Italy is also an attractive destination for tourism and business events.

Japanese

Japanese is the native tongue of the world's third-largest economy, widely spoken as a second language around the Pacific Rim. Japan is an economic power house, with an extremely rich culture, history and natural beauty. We have partners in the major cities of Sapporo, Tokyo, Nagoya, Osaka and Fukuoka.

Russian

Russian is the native language of almost 160 million people, understood across Eastern Europe and the central Asian republics. You could experience life in Moscow or St Petersburg and see how the country is integrating with the global economy. Its size and natural resources make Russia of great interest to foreign business. Many multinational companies have bases there.

Spanish

Spanish is the world's second-largest international language, with nearly 500 million speakers in more than 20 culturally diverse countries, including Spain and Latin America. It is also a key instrument for commercial exchanges; Latin American multinationals have established a strong foothold in Europe while Spanish textile and banking conglomerates have become global players. In the US, Spanish is rapidly gaining critical importance well beyond the Hispanic markets. Whether for tourism or business, Spanish is a truly global language.

Please note that not all languages and not all levels may be taught in any given term, subject to student numbers.

Fashion & Design

Regent's offers dynamic industry-related fashion and design degree programmes. Our location in the heart of a city that is at the forefront of the fashion and design industries makes Regent's an exciting place to study.

Fashion & Design at Regent's is situated in the beautiful and fashionable Marylebone Village, with its cutting-edge fashion and design stores.

At Regent's you can be confident you are choosing a place of study that offers an unparalleled level of support. We offer you a high level of contact with tutors and a clear focus on developing your particular interests and abilities.

Practical, contemporary programmes

All our degree programmes reflect current industry practice, enabling our students to develop as creative individuals with specialist knowledge and skills that are relevant to their chosen industries.

An innovative and challenging curriculum blends theoretical understanding with practical, hands-on experience, enabling you to work with industry professionals and develop real-world skills.

Develop your own design style

We encourage you to develop your individual style and focus on the areas that interest you most as you reach your final year.

Successful students graduate with a highly individual portfolio of work, ready to move on to postgraduate study or directly into industry. We work closely with the Careers & Business Relations team to offer careers coaching, and to support your application and interview process on graduation.

Learn from industry experts

We have a strong sense of community and a positive, friendly culture which fosters a welcoming environment and a challenging working atmosphere.

As you develop your individual talents within your chosen area of expertise, you will have the full support of both your tutors and your personal tutor. Many of our tutors work in the industry, bringing current knowledge from fashion and design into the classroom.

You can gain industry experience while you are studying: you will meet industry professionals, listen to guest speakers and work on exciting live projects that will enable you to building a sound understanding of your subject in a rich environment.

London as your classroom

You will find that London offers endless sources of research and creative inspiration. As one of the fashion capitals of the world and home to all the major design, advertising and media companies, London is widely recognised as a leading hub of creative thinking and innovation.

Our central London location gives you access to globally important galleries, museums and exhibitions, as well as the wealth of visual experiences offered by the city itself. World-class architecture, parks and gardens, markets, stores and many other sights offer endless sources of inspiration.

If you are keen to develop your fashion and design talent in a challenging, exciting environment with a high level of individual support, then Regent's, in the heart of this important city, is a great place to begin your journey.

Interior design students took part in a competition to develop plans for a 'pop-up' temporary pavilion to host debates, performances, social and sporting events at the Regent's Park campus and then elsewhere in London, as part of a community outreach project. The image shows Cécile Norwood's winning design.

'I have always been passionate about art and what is fashion if not wearable art? I also wanted to study at a university where a student is more than just a number or a statistic.'

Ieva Eglite, Latvia,
BA (Hons) Fashion Design

Integrated Design Foundation

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Design professionals increasingly work across boundaries between industries. The knowledge you gain from a foundation year will open your mind to developing in your chosen area of fashion and design. It will also enable you to work more effectively with others, both as a student and in industry.

For students whose present qualifications do not permit direct entry to the first year of BA (Hons) studies, we offer a four-year programme with an integrated foundation year:

BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Integrated Foundation

BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing with Integrated Foundation

BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing with Integrated Foundation

BA (Hons) Interior Design with Integrated Foundation

It provides a broad-based introduction to fashion and design, where you can explore and develop your understanding of the creative industries, fashion design, fashion marketing and interior design.

The foundation will prepare you for your chosen degree programme and ensure you possess the necessary knowledge, values and skills to undertake study at degree level.

All foundation students follow the same programme, leading directly to their chosen bachelors' degree programme.

You will gain a basic knowledge of art and design history and theory, and the principles and practices of graphics, interiors, photography, illustration, fashion design and fashion marketing.

You will start to use creative-thinking skills and develop your aesthetic sensibilities. Theoretical studies will enable you to understand how art and design have evolved, and to place them in their wider contexts.

The programme will also help to build your visual, verbal and written communication skills and your ability to reflect on and adapt to challenges and changing situations.

What will I study?

In the first term, all students take three core modules:

Research

Ideas

Make

In the second term you will complete a variety of project work which will give you experience and insight into a wide variety of design disciplines. This will help you develop the skills and knowledge to lead you towards your chosen degree pathway.

Learning and assessment

The majority of teaching takes place in a studio-based environment and focuses on practical work, with explanations of underpinning theory. Term 1 includes a lecture series exploring contextual studies in design. Ten credits from the total of 120 are allocated for lecture-based work, and the rest of the programme is practical.

You will be taught by lecturers with a wide range of industry knowledge and experience, including experts in fashion design, costume design, fine art, graphics, interior design, promotions and marketing, and conceptual designers.

Small class sizes ensure you will have plenty of individual contact time with your tutors. You will learn through a variety of methods including studio work, tutorials, seminars, workshops, field trips, discussions, peer evaluations and group work.

You will be assessed through assignments such as projects, sketchbooks, portfolios, report writing, essays, self-evaluation, group-work presentations and practical work, for example photoshoots, model-making and exhibition of your work.

Location

Marylebone

Duration

One year, full time

Start date

September

For module descriptions, visit us online regents.ac.uk/study

'I have learnt a variety of techniques of creation both in 2D work and in 3D work, and with these techniques I have expanded my creativity even more in producing my final pieces.'

Pauline Sandor, Canada and France,
BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing
with Integrated Foundation

regents.ac.uk/pauline

Next steps

Successful completion of your foundation studies guarantees progression to your selected degree programme. For more information on the three-year degree programmes, see:

BA \(Hons\) Fashion Design \(page 54\)

BA \(Hons\) Fashion Design with Marketing \(page 56\)

BA \(Hons\) Fashion Marketing \(page 58\)

BA \(Hons\) Interior Design \(page 60\)

BA (Hons) Fashion Design

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Today's fashion designers must be contemporary, trend-aware, innovative and flexible in their approach. This programme offers a comprehensive understanding of the fashion design process, encouraging your development as a creative professional with the strong conceptual and technical skills you will need for success in this fast-paced industry.

The BA (Hons) Fashion Design aims to produce creative fashion innovators who are passionate about design. It will enable you to express your personal philosophy of fashion and develop your own signature style.

As well as conceptual skills, you will explore the practicalities of the design process, and build your technical skills in areas such as drawing, computer-aided design, the creation of textiles, pattern-cutting and garment construction.

You will also learn about the evolution of fashion and explore the relationship between fashion, society and culture. One of the key industry challenges is the use and abuse of world resources through textile manufacture. You will learn about the issues and how companies can minimise their impact on the environment.

You will be able to expand your knowledge in a specialist area, choosing from modules in event management, styling and photography, journalism and PR, and accessories.

Industry experience is highly valuable, and you will be encouraged to gain as much work experience as you can. We have strong contacts with the fashion industry and our students are offered varied work placements in a wide range of roles with an option for a professional placement as part of the programme.

There is also the opportunity to study abroad, taking trips with us to Paris and other fashion capitals to gain a deeper knowledge of specialist areas of fashion.

In the final year, you will create your own collection for the graduate fashion show. You will design, construct and style a collection of garments for a particular customer and market, building a portfolio of work to show future employers.

What will I study?

Year 1

CAD

Design Process

Global Perspectives

Historical and Contextual Studies in Fashion

Pattern 1 and 2

Textiles

Year 2

Design Studio 1 and 2

Drape

Fashion Illustration

Theoretical Studies in Fashion

One elective module (see list below)

Year 3

Pre-Collection

Collections

Fashion Design Portfolio

Dissertation

Elective modules

Accessories

Fashion Journalism and PR

Fashion Show Production and
Event Management

Fashion Styling and Photography

Professional Placement

Location

Marylebone

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years
with Foundation

Start date

September

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

'I have had a few internships during my time here. The first one was with Zandra Rhodes where I got to work closely with Zandra herself, which was an amazing experience. During my time there I got to develop a few textile prints, one of which was used in her collection.'

Christine Smith Egeland, Norway, BA (Hons) Fashion Design

regents.ac.uk/christine

Learning and assessment

London is famous for innovative fashion, and we make the most of the wonderful opportunities offered by our central location. You will gain plenty of real-life experience, working to live industry briefs and taking part in fashion shows and fashion shoots.

You will be taught by lecturers who also work in the fashion industry and hear from frequent visiting speakers from industry and academia. Small class sizes ensure you will have plenty of individual contact time with your tutors. Teaching methods include studio work, tutorials, seminars, workshops, field trips, discussions, peer evaluations and group work.

You will be assessed through assignments such as projects, portfolios, sketchbooks, reports, essays, self-evaluation, presentations and practical work, for example photoshoots, fashion shows and work in industry.

What skills will I gain?

The ability to generate ideas, concepts, proposals and solutions to set briefs

The ability to research, analyse and communicate your ideas effectively using a range of media

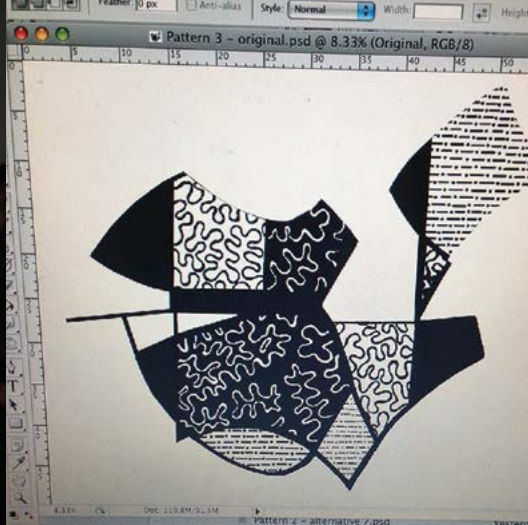

Construction, design, drawing and CAD skills

Practical skills in using a range of materials, tools and methods

The ability to conceive, design and produce a final collection

Future opportunities

Completing this programme will give you the wide-ranging skills you need to pursue a professional career in many areas of fashion. Career paths open to you will include working as a designer, pattern cutter, stylist, fashion journalist, creative director, buyer, textile designer or visual merchandiser.

BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing

The fashion industry needs designers who are both creative and market-aware. This programme is about creating innovative designs in rapid response to emerging markets and market trends.

Location

Marylebone

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years
with Foundation

Start date

September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing is an innovative, challenging programme for students who wish to become customer-focused designers with a strong appreciation of marketing issues.

It will enable you to develop as a trend interpreter, equipped to produce designs based on well-researched consumer needs and commercial environments.

You will learn to design, prototype and construct clothing ranges that combine your personal philosophy of design and the needs of the marketplace. You will learn about fashion markets, the consumer and fashion marketing techniques.

As well as marketing skills, you will explore the practicalities of the design process, and build your technical skills in areas such as drawing, computer-aided design, pattern cutting and garment construction.

You will also look at the evolution of fashion and contemporary issues such as sustainability in textile manufacturing. You will be able to expand your knowledge in specialist areas, choosing from modules in fashion show production and event management, styling and photography, journalism and PR.

Industry experience is highly valuable, and you will be encouraged to gain as much work experience as you can. We have strong contacts with the fashion industry and our students are offered varied work placements in a wide range of roles with an option for a professional placement as part of the programme.

There is also the opportunity to study abroad, taking trips with us to Paris and other fashion capitals to gain a deeper knowledge of specialist areas of fashion.

In the final year, you will create your own fashion collection for the graduate fashion show. You will design, construct and style a collection of garments for a particular customer and market, building a portfolio of work to show future employers.

What will I study?

Year 1

CAD

Fashion Marketing and Promotion

Fashion Trends

Global Perspectives

Historical and Contextual Studies in Fashion

Pattern 1 and 2

Year 2

Design Studio 1 and 2

Fashion Communication

Fashion Illustration

Theoretical Studies in Fashion

One elective module (see list below)

Year 3

Pre-Collection

Collections

Dissertation

Fashion Design Portfolio

Elective modules

Fashion Journalism and PR

Fashion Show Production and
Event Management

Fashion Styling and Photography

Professional Placement

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

'I love both sides of fashion – design and marketing – and believe you need both so that each can support the other.'

Celine Klein, Belgium,
BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing

Learning and assessment

The programme makes the most of the wonderful opportunities offered by our central London location. You will gain real-life experience working to live industry briefs and taking part in fashion shows and shoots.

You will learn through lectures, seminars, discussion groups and tutorials. This ensures you will have plenty of individual contact with your tutors, who have significant academic and fashion industry experience. Particular areas of strength include marketing, PR, branding, digital marketing, journalism, fashion events, mass and luxury fashion.

Teaching methods include studio work, tutorials, seminars, workshops, field trips, and peer evaluations. You will be assessed through projects, portfolios, sketchbooks, reports, essays, presentations and practical work such as shoots, fashion shows and work in industry.

What skills will I gain?

The ability to generate ideas, concepts, proposals and solutions to identify and meet the needs of particular markets

The ability to research, analyse and communicate your ideas to specific markets

Construction, design, drawing and CAD skills

Practical skills in using a range of materials, tools and methods

The ability to conceive, design and produce a final collection for a specific commercial market

Future opportunities

Career paths open to you will include working as a fashion marketer, stylist, fashion journalist, retail manager, trend forecaster, creative director, buyer, designer or visual merchandiser.

BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The fashion industry is defined by change, and successful brands and fashion professionals need to be commercially astute, creative and multi-skilled to stay ahead of the game. This programme offers key business knowledge of how fashion markets work and how to succeed in today's dynamic fashion and luxury marketplace.

The BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing offers a unique blend of strategic fashion marketing content with specialist knowledge in areas including fashion communications, branding, buying and fashion show production. This programme will develop you as an innovative, visionary marketer, with an excellent understanding of fashion marketing and promotion, and confident communication skills.

You will explore fashion organisations, the environments in which they operate and their international marketing activities, learning how to research and generate ideas and concepts that respond to developing trends. The programme looks at creativity in many different forms, from digital communication and fashion images through to fashion show and events production.

You will learn how to develop innovative marketing solutions, based on sound analysis of market information and knowledge of marketing and promotion theory. You will become media-savvy, with a strong sense of ethical and social values, and the ability to work autonomously on a wide range of fashion marketing projects.

In Year 2, you will have the option to complete a period of study abroad (see pages 20-21). We have partnerships with over 100 institutions around the world. The University's International Partnerships Office will support you before, during and after your SPA.

The programme will build your understanding of contemporary issues in fashion, as well as the historical, design and cultural contexts in which fashion marketing operates. You will mix and work with students on other fashion design programmes, undertaking practical projects alongside your academic studies, such as producing fashion shows, events and photoshoots.

What will I study?

Year 1

CAD

Fashion Images

Fashion Marketing and Promotion

Fashion Trends

Global Perspectives

Historical and Contextual Studies in Fashion

Marketing Research and the Fashion Consumer

Year 2

Fashion Branding

Fashion Communication

Fashion Marketing Strategies

Fashion Product, Buying and Merchandising

Theoretical Studies in Fashion

One elective module (see list below)

Year 3

Creative Marketing

Fashion Marketing Portfolio

Final Project 1 Research

Final Project 2 Realisation

Elective modules

Fashion Journalism and PR

Fashion Show Production and Event Management

Fashion Styling and Photography

Professional Placement

Location

Marylebone

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years
with Foundation

Start date

September

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

'The structure of the programme was perfect for me since it covered the business side of fashion and introduced me to branding, buying and merchandising, CAD skills and creative marketing. The course also covers art history and the development of a personal brand.'

Katherine Boivin, Canada,
BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing

regents.ac.uk/katherine

Learning and assessment

London is famous for innovative fashion, and our central location offers easy access to fashion districts for direct learning. You will visit companies, retail hubs and external exhibitions in galleries and museums.

The programme is designed to offer a variety of learning environments including lectures, seminars, discussion groups and tutorials. This ensures you will have plenty of individual contact with your tutors.

Our staff are internationally recognised for their academic specialisms and or industry, including fashion journalism, buying and merchandising, luxury brand consultancy, PR, fashion show and event production, styling and fashion trends.

You will learn through a mixture of taught classes and fieldwork in London. Teaching methods include tutorials, lectures, workshops, live projects and fashion shoots, field trips and group discussions. You will be assessed through assignments such as portfolios, reports, essays, presentations, reflective learning journals and group projects.

What skills will I gain?

A comprehensive knowledge and appreciation of fashion marketing, with a strong emphasis on fashion communication and identity

A strong eye for contemporary and future fashion trends

The ability to generate ideas, concepts, proposals and solutions to identify and meet the needs of particular markets

The ability to research, analyse and communicate your ideas professionally

The ability to generate a range of outputs, from marketing reports to visual imagery and events

Future opportunities

Completing this programme will equip you to succeed in a range of careers in areas such as fashion marketing and related specialist communications, buying and merchandising, and retailing. Other areas you could consider include branding, event management, fashion styling, digital marketing, PR and journalism.

BA (Hons) Interior Design

The design of interiors can fundamentally affect our everyday lives, from where we work to how we live. An interior designer enjoys variety, dealing with different clients and sites all over the world.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years
with Foundation

Start date

September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Interior design is a fast-moving discipline that sets out to improve our spatial experience of many different places, such as retail stores, commercial environments, exhibition spaces and places of leisure and hospitality.

The BA (Hons) Interior Design is a dynamic, cross-cultural programme that aims to develop you as a professional who can take on any and every design challenge.

We emphasise creativity and craft, allowing you to develop your own individual approach to the subject, while preparing you with the skills and knowledge you will need for industry practice and beyond.

By learning to focus on the creative process behind design, you will be able to respond to a variety of briefs that are not restricted to any single aspect of the discipline.

You will study a range of themes relating to design, helping you to become a socially, ethically and environmentally responsible designer.

We will ensure you have regular contact with new ideas, people, spaces and objects that reflect the rich diversity of the designed world, locally and internationally.

Practical design work is underpinned by studies in the history and theory of design. You will also gain the skills you need to communicate your ideas successfully to clients and employers.

Your studies will culminate in a final-year design project, which is an individually driven interior design proposal that focuses on your personal aspirations towards the subject.

What will I study?

Year 1

Communication Skills 1

Global Perspectives

Interior Design Principles 1–4

Interior Histories

Year 2

Communication Skills 2

Interior Design Practice 1–4

Interior Theories

Year 3

Interior Design Study

Major Design Project Feasibility

Major Design Project

Portfolio and Professional Studies

Dissertation

What skills will I gain?

Understanding of interior design principles, practices and professional standards

The ability to apply design styles and theory to a given brief

The ability to select and use appropriate materials, tools and techniques

Research, analysis and problem-solving skills

The ability to communicate your ideas in words and images

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

'Regent's has so many connections with the industry, and the programme resembles a working environment, which helps us prepare for the future. Being able to do live projects with clients has definitely been my favourite part as it helps me to get a feel for working in the design world.'

Phoebe Jones, UK,
BA (Hons) Interior Design

regents.ac.uk/phoebe

Learning and assessment

You will be taught in small groups by experienced tutors with wide expertise in retail, commercial, residential, exhibition and furniture design. Your experience will be broadened by memorable talks from visiting design industry experts. You will see design studios in action, work on live projects, enter competitions and take part in graduate shows.

Based in central London, you will be learning at the heart of the interior design industry, surrounded by the latest interiors and the most influential design agencies. London itself offers endless resources that you can use to research and develop your ideas about design – from museums, galleries and shops to historic architecture and public interiors.

Most classes take place in our interior design studios. We follow a project-based approach and use a wide range of learning and assessment methods, including individual tutorials, group critiques, seminar presentations, discussion groups and team teaching. Live project work and guest lecturers offer valuable links with industry and business practices.

Future opportunities

This programme will enable you to develop the creativity, knowledge and skills to become an interior designer across various sectors of the profession.

It will open doors to careers in areas such as architectural, retail, exhibition, hospitality, residential and workplace design. Recent graduates have gained positions at a number of highly regarded design agencies.

Film, Media & Performance

Regent's offers a wide range of innovative programmes in creative performance, writing, film-making production and management. You will be taught by media industry practitioners and creative media production specialists, who work at the heart of a huge and flourishing sector.

We offer a unique educational experience, taking the established Regent's ethos of internationalism and the highest-quality learning opportunities and applying this to the creative industries.

The modern media degree is no longer a traditional study of culture and society, but must look to the industry to guide and shape the creative individuals and leaders of tomorrow. Our degrees cover creating, writing, producing, directing, programme-making and acting for film, television and theatre productions, as well as originating, shaping and managing a wide range of creative ideas and ventures.

At Regent's you will find:

Degrees designed in partnership with industry, teaching the skills companies need today and in the future

Innovative, challenging and highly creative programmes that synthesise academic learning with practical, hands-on experience

Personal support in small classes from dedicated, committed staff with widespread professional expertise and diverse industry contacts

Opportunities to study abroad and gain an international perspective on the creative industries

Excellent technical facilities, including our own theatre and TV studio

Programmes that both foster your creative development and prepare you for employment

A world of creative opportunity

The creative industries – more than any other – are always hungry for new and original thinking, talent and people.

Employment prospects are growing rapidly. As technological developments integrate entertainment and the media ever-more seamlessly into our lives, new talent is in constant demand to create engaging content across both traditional and developing digital and online media.

London as your classroom

London is a creative and cultural hub, at the heart of global media and home to world-renowned theatre. You will be ideally placed to gain work experience in the creative industries and to learn from the unique cultural resources of this great city.

Our highly vocational programmes will open doors for you across a wide range of different areas in this huge and growing field.

Creative and commercial skills

We aim to foster a strong creative work ethic. You will have intensive, focused training that encompasses a broad range of skills, with key specialisations in your chosen field.

Working individually and in groups, you will originate projects and learn to build on the natural group dynamics that are at the heart of the creative industries. These study methods enable you to develop your creative skills, expertise and confidence fast.

As well as fostering your creative development, we aim to help you develop the essential business and personal skills you will need to succeed in the fast-paced creative industries.

Work placement opportunities

Practical work placements are invaluable and almost all our undergraduate degrees include an industry placement at the end of the second year, as well as industry and professional skills modules.

We are ideally situated to provide practical work placements at TV, film and theatre production companies in the heart of London's media-land.

In addition, our industry links mean that a core element of your work will be in the form of live briefs, commissioned and evaluated by companies looking for new projects and ideas.

Regent's 120-seat Marylebone Theatre is part of a major new teaching and performance facility. Converted from a former chapel, the theatre is a highly adaptable space, making it the perfect professional setting for Regent's drama performances and fashion shows. Acting students use the space almost daily for rehearsals, while stage and screenplay workshops enable writing students to hear their scripts performed.

Regent's hosts the annual London Screenwriters' Festival. This is an excellent opportunity for our students to meet leading film industry figures, with more than 100 different events, including seminars, workshops, screenings, debates and speed-pitching sessions.

The annual Regent's Arts Season is a showcase for the creativity of students and staff at the University. A wide range of art forms are on display, including film, photography, music and theatre.

'The media courses offered by the University develop your cultural knowledge and give inspiration for your creative projects.'

Monika Wilczynska, Poland,
BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production

Acting Foundation

More than any other profession, actors must shape their own careers. Much of their success is dependent on confidence, their choice of audition material and the ability to perform effectively in casting sessions. The Acting Foundation is designed to prepare you for entry to the BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre and equip you with the resources and confidence you need to begin your creative journey.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Two terms, full time

Start date

September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

This course forms the first year of the BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre with Integrated Foundation at Regent's. The year of foundation studies is ideal for those students whose present qualifications do not permit direct entry to study at UK degree level.

The Acting Foundation offers highly practical training for those who wish to gain the core physical, vocal and communication skills of the actor.

London has long been recognised as a world centre for theatre, thanks in part to the diversity and high standard of acting training offered in Britain.

The foundation year will give you all the tools you need to benefit from the intensive training on the BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre programme.

You will take part in a series of acting masterclasses, taught by visiting professionals and highly skilled practitioners, with sessions on acting for the lens and other specialist styles and techniques.

In addition, you will learn about the practical aspects of the business, including audition technique, sight-reading and interviews, and take part in question-and-answer sessions with visiting directors, agents and casting directors.

We will guide you through the process of developing effective audition technique. You will learn how to select audition speeches best suited to your potential and how to develop a polished audition performance.

What will I study?

Term 1

Acting 1: Acting Fundamentals

Audition Preparation: The Modern Monologue

Improvisation: Creative Collaborations

Introduction to Voice and Movement

Term 2

Acting 2: Scene Study

Audition Preparation: The Classical Monologue

Developing Voice and Movement

Stages and Styles

Learning and assessment

You will be taught by experienced professionals from the London theatre community, including actors, directors, writers and designers. You will learn through seminars, workshops and tutorials, working both individually and in groups.

Technical skills are taught and assessed through the voice and movement modules. Acting is taught and assessed through rehearsal, class presentation of projects, essays, games and improvisations, and mock auditions.

You will research and write essays about character and context, and learn to write critically about live performance. You will also create a production notebook on a selected play text.

Each term includes a workshop presentation of scenes or short plays where your grade is based on preparation as well as performance.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

What skills will I gain?

The core physical, vocal and communication skills of the actor

Team-working, communication and interpersonal skills

Time management and presentation skills

Creative problem-solving skills and adaptability

Audition skills and the confidence to tackle the audition process

Next steps

Successful completion of the Acting Foundation leads to entry to the BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre (see page 66). You will complete the year with an array of acting skills and techniques, as well as increased confidence and industry know-how.

‘The Stages and Styles module is both interesting and challenging. We focus on theoretical knowledge, and also incorporate a lot of practical work. Guest lecturers come in to teach us the basics of theatre forms from other times and/or cultures. This class requires you to be on your feet and open to trying new things.’

Paula Blum, Austria, Integrated Acting Foundation

regents.ac.uk/paula

BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre

This programme explores the actor's craft through the study of world theatre. It is taught by theatre professionals who are active in the London theatre community and abroad. It aims to produce articulate theatre-makers who are able to take a production from initial idea through to the first night.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start date

September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Make the world your stage. The BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre celebrates the richness of theatre and performance from Africa, Asia-Pacific, Europe and the Americas.

You will discover the societies and culture that have shaped world theatre, and integrate theatre theories through studio exercises and practical workshops.

Theory and practice are key tools for today's theatre-maker. You will learn how theatre has evolved in response to the needs and aspirations of different societies. You will build a broad understanding of the social, political and cultural contexts which influenced playwrights and performers throughout the world.

Classes in acting, voice, movement, scenography and theatre histories will enable you to experience techniques from all over the world and build your own creative tool-kit.

You will learn to work with directors, designers and the creative team. You will develop your craft as an actor and theatre-maker through exploring non-Realist, Classical and Realist texts. You will also learn acting for the camera and how to script, shoot and edit your own film.

A special feature of the course is the annual Artist Residency, where students work with a master teacher to create a project. Recent guest artists have included Marcio Mello (Commedia Dell'Arte), Teresa Araujo (Brazilian Forum Theatre) and Ni Madé Pujawati (Balinese Kecak).

Students and tutors work closely together, forming a creative hub, where you will find opportunities to work with other scriptwriters, film-makers and fellow creatives.

Your studies will be enhanced by visits from industry professionals and guest speakers. We have active partnerships with Regent's Park Open Air Theatre, Yellow Earth Theatre, North London Actors and StoneCrabs Theatre Company.

You will explore London, home to the West End and world-class theatre. Our visits and field trips range from experimental fringe theatre to Shakespeare's Globe. Our central location puts this cultural capital within easy reach.

Public performances are an integral part of student learning, so you will act in varied productions and workshops. For your graduation show, each student has a substantial part in a play directed by a professional director and shown in our own Marylebone Theatre.

What will I study?

Year 1

Core Learning and Research Skills

Creating a Character

Ensemble Techniques (Voice, Movement, Acting)

Global Perspectives

Media Technology for the Screen

The Actor as Instrument

World Stages: Roots of Performance

Year 2

Acting for Camera

Actor, Image and Stage

Study Abroad Essay and Portfolio

World Stages: Mapping Performance

Year 3

Creating a Performance

Professional Seminar

Shakespeare in Performance

World Stages: Performance Global/Local

Major Performance Project

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

'I wanted to study a classical form of acting and to gain a multi-cultural background in theatre, I have a passion for discovering art-forms from around the world. The course also provides background knowledge in scenography, which is another passion of mine.'

Hanna-Lou Sivell, UK, BA (Hons)
Acting & World Theatre

regents.ac.uk/hanna

Study abroad

You will spend a term of study abroad in Year 2, giving you the opportunity to experience performance cultures outside the UK (see page 20). Destinations include New York, Melbourne, Prague and Santiago.

Learning and assessment

You will be taught by experienced London theatre professionals, who work closely with students to develop their potential. There is a high level of practical and experiential learning, both on and off campus. Training as a performer is both physically and mentally demanding, and requires integrity, emotional maturity, good work ethic and self-discipline.

Your skills and knowledge will be assessed through theatre, scenography and film projects, as well as essays and examinations. During your Study Abroad term, you will develop your own research project, and in the final year, create a career-planning portfolio. Throughout the programme, your development as a performer will be charted through acting, voice and movement assessments.

What skills will I gain?

A portfolio of acting and theatre-making skills, drawn from world theatres

The ability to create, produce and perform your own work

Enhanced cultural awareness and a global perspective, vital to today's fast-changing workplace

Skills in technical theatre, marketing, video filming, editing and digital sound recording

Team-working and project management

Future opportunities

This programme will equip you with the skills you need to enter the theatre industry as an actor. You will also be able to consider roles in other areas of theatre and allied creative industries, such as production, direction, stage management, film-making, casting and arts marketing.

Integrated Media Production Foundation

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The modern media world is fast-moving and highly competitive. New technologies and social change continually alter how we interact with media, demanding constant innovation and originality from the industry's creative professionals. The Integrated Media Production Foundation is an ideal stepping stone to a degree and future career in this most exciting of industries.

If your present qualifications do not permit direct entry to the first year of BA (Hons) studies, we offer four-year programmes with an integrated foundation year:

BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media
Production with Integrated Foundation

BA (Hons) Screenwriting & Producing with Integrated Foundation

The Integrated Media Production foundation is a perfect first step to work in the creative industries, preparing you for entry to degree-level study. You will gain a sound footing in scriptwriting, film and TV production skills, design and personal presentation, as well as in digital media production and today's multiplatform, 360-degree broadcasting.

You will develop understanding of narrative and story structure relevant to both drama and documentary. You will also hone your creative and critical-thinking skills as you carry out research and analysis and critique your own and others' work.

This practical programme, created and taught by media professionals, provides hands-on training alongside theory-based classes, giving you a thorough grounding in production skills relevant to a broad range of established and new media.

What will I study?

Advertising and Presentation

Creative Production

Creative Writing and Presentation

Film and Music

Film, TV and Digital Media Production
(Live Studio Production)

Screenwriting and Producing

Learning and assessment

You will learn through lectures, seminars, workshops and tutorials. You will also work on practical projects, both individually and in groups, replicating industry practice.

Theory and practical tuition go hand-in-hand, enabling you to understand the history and development of television, film and digital media broadcasting.

Student assessment includes both individual and group projects, which cover film and TV projects, written course work, screenplays, presentations and production folders (there are no examinations).

What skills will I gain?

Creative production skills

Competence in oral, written and multimedia presentation

IT and multimedia skills

Filming and editing techniques

Project management skills

Writing skills, including narrative writing, essays and analysis

Research and analytical skills

Next steps

The Foundation will give you the skills and grounding required to progress confidently with your studies at degree level. For more information on the three-year degree programmes, see:

BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media
Production (page 70)

BA (Hons) Screenwriting & Producing
(page 72)

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

One year, full time

Start date

September

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The modern media landscape is changing faster than any other industry as it adapts to new methods of communication, new markets and new technology. The next generation of film and TV producers, directors, camera operators, editors and production managers must be prepared to work in a competitive and multi-faceted environment.

Research shows that 65% of the jobs that teenagers of today will be doing have not yet been invented. Predicting how broadcast media will look in just five years' time therefore becomes a challenge. Today's students must experience and understand the most current practices so that they may become the innovators of tomorrow.

The BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production explores the way broadcast media professionals really work and how they respond to an ever-changing landscape. You will learn 360-degree, multi-platform broadcasting – how an HD television studio and outside broadcast unit work, how to make campaign films and how to use digital media to promote projects and brands.

We also offer first-hand experience of the creative industries at work in another country, exploring global narrative genres, online and TV formats and documentary.

Practice is core to our teaching. You will learn the traditional skills of directing, producing, sound recording, lighting, camera operating, editing and production management for TV and film, as well as how to use digital and social media to enhance interactivity with your audience. You will also gain vital skills in fundraising, promotion and distribution.

You will explore different types of film and programme-making and the wealth of drama, documentary and reality TV genres past and present. You will also learn about broadcast history, the leading movements and their social contexts, to understand how and why these industries were created.

Theoretical and practical tuition go hand-in-hand, enabling you to appreciate the history and development of television, film and digital broadcast media, as well as honing your ability to identify and respond to emerging trends.

What will I study?

Year 1

Core Skills for Learning and Research

Documentary and Factual TV Production

Global Perspectives

Introduction to Production

Script Adaptation, Development and Presentation

Studio Production

Visual Storytelling in Drama

Year 2

Creating a Produced Commercial

Studio & Outside Broadcast Production

Using Emerging Technologies

Study Abroad Portfolio

Year 3

Campaign Production

Developing TV Formats for International Markets

Development and Completion of Major Production

Extended Essay Parts 1 and 2

Study abroad

In Year 2 you will spend the spring term at one of our partner universities in the US, Europe or Australia, learning how the industry works in other countries and developing wide-ranging employment skills (see page 20).

Industry placement

You will undertake a professional placement that will give you first-hand experience of the industry and prepare you for working life. The University's Careers & Business Relations team can support you in finding a placement (see page 24).

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start date

September

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

Industry experience events have included EU-funded workshops involving travel and collaboration with European film schools and industry experts, and training days at the Sony Centre at Pinewood working on state-of-the-art hardware and software. Students have also completed live industry contracts, including sporting events, film commissions and a 1,300-string music event at the Royal Albert Hall.

‘The programme explores all aspects of film, television and digital media production. We get free rein to create our films, we get to work in the unbelievable TV studio and gallery to broadcast live shows, and we collaborate with students on the other programmes.’

Sofia Mellander, Sweden,
BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production

regents.ac.uk/sofia

Learning and assessment

Learning takes place through lectures, seminars, workshops, case studies, tutorials, and masterclasses delivered by industry experts. You will work both individually and in groups, with many assignments replicating industry practice. In your final year you will specialise in media areas that interest you most.

You will be taught by people with substantial hands-on experience of the industry, as well as those who are working daily in film and television. We also involve external media experts in your learning, from guest lectures to masterclasses and work placements.

Individual assessment methods include script analyses, screenplays, reflective blogs, presentations, essays, case studies and written examinations. Group assessments constitute 50% of your overall degree and include short films, pitches and presentations, and written pitch documents.

What skills will I gain?

Creative production skills

Core competencies in oral, written and multimedia presentation

IT and multimedia pitching and presentation skills

Understanding of the techniques of filming and editing

Writing skills including narrative writing, essays and reasoned analysis

Research and analytical skills

Future opportunities

This programme will prepare you for a career in broadcast media, in roles such as film and TV producer, director, camera operator, editor or production manager. Whether you're looking to make your mark in a small, independent company or a large organisation such as the BBC, this degree provides the training to do so.

BA (Hons) Screenwriting & Producing

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The ‘writer-producer’ is the ideal model for a creative individual entering film and TV today. It is becoming increasingly essential that creators and developers of film and TV – whether as writers, funders or producers – also have the skills to make the movie and to guide and direct teams in the creation of their work.

From conception to realisation, the script is the heart of a screen project. All production ideas and executions emanate from it and the industry is governed by those who work most directly with scripts – the writers, directors and producers.

This degree sits at the heart of a rich and thriving marketplace. It will enable you to develop the necessary skills to operate across traditional ‘boundaries’ between the key central roles. It goes further than a pure creative-writing degree, marrying creative development with production skills and management expertise.

You will not only be writing scripts, you will be creating and producing your own films. Throughout the degree, there is a gradual build-up through the script-writing process, from shorter scripts to fully formed feature scripts. You will learn to plan, develop and refine the script, together with practical skills in the use of language, script formatting and terminology.

The programme explores the structure and mechanics of the screen industry. You will learn to judge new ideas, handle marketing, legal, budgeting and financial issues, manage your own and others’ creativity and liaise effectively with writers, directors, actors and agents.

You will create your own one-hour ready-to-sell TV drama series, including characters, locations and storylines, plus a full script for the first episode. You will also devise a new product and create a marketing campaign for it, then write, cast, shoot and edit an industry-standard commercial.

In the final year you will devise and script a full-length movie screenplay and write, cast, direct and produce your own short film. In other words you will now be the complete ‘writer-producer and film-maker’.

What will I study?

Year 1

Business and Law for the Creative Producer

Core Skills for Learning and Research

Global Perspectives

Introduction to Production

Script Adaptation, Development and Presentation

Thirty-Minute Script

Visual Storytelling in Drama

Year 2

Creating a TV Commercial

Creating a One-Hour TV Drama Series

Study Abroad Portfolio

Year 3

Creating and Producing the Short Film

Producing and Marketing the Major Script

Major Script Project – Development

Major Script Project – Completion

Learning and assessment

You will be taught by experienced filmmakers currently working in the television and film industries. Our team is made up of writers, producers and directors teaching to a high professional standard and preparing our students to enter the industry following graduation.

Varied teaching methods include lectures, seminars, workshops and tutorials. You will work both on your own and in groups, replicating industry practice. As the course progresses, you will specialise in your preferred script and production areas.

Assessment is based entirely on project work throughout the programme, including scripts, business and production plans, and the films and TV commercials you make. You will also be assessed on your presentation skills and written analyses and essays on aspects of the film and TV industry.

Location

Regent’s Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start date

September

Study abroad

In Year 2 you will spend the spring term at one of our partner universities in the US, Europe or Australia, to gain first-hand experience of how the screen industry works in another country (see page 20).

Industry placement

You will undertake a work placement that will give you first-hand experience of the screenwriting and producing industry, and prepare you for working life. The University's Careers & Business Relations team can support you in finding a placement (see page 24).

What skills will I gain?

Script planning, creation and development

The ability to write, cast, direct and produce your own scripts

Skills in filming, editing and producing screen projects

The ability to create TV drama, movie-length features and commercials

Research skills and the ability to adapt material into dramatic form

The ability to manage people and group dynamics

The ability to judge why and how a major screen project will work

Future opportunities

This programme will help you to develop the full range of skills needed to work as a writer, director or producer in the TV or film industries. It will nurture your creative development as a writer and director, as well as sharpening your business acumen and understanding of the production process. You will gain the necessary competencies for production, together with industry-standard skills in script evaluation and the skills to write high-quality scripts yourself.

'I want to be a screenwriter and filmmaker, and so having experienced lecturers and up-to-date equipment is a fantastic help for me to learn the craft. I have gained the confidence to create, from a music video to a short story.'

Jake Sowden, UK, BA (Hons)
Screenwriting & Producing

Liberal Arts & Humanities

A liberal arts education fosters the ability to think critically, solve problems and communicate effectively. It also develops a sense of personal and social responsibility. Liberal arts graduates combine expertise in their chosen major area of study with a range of abilities that uniquely prepares them for success in a rapidly changing global environment.

Liberal Arts & Humanities at Regent's offers a broadly based programme of education that will give you the knowledge and capabilities to succeed in an increasingly inter-connected world.

Regent's has a long-standing reputation for delivering a high quality American liberal arts curriculum in London.

Studying for your degree at Regent's will also give you access to the many benefits of London with all its possibilities – social and professional.

A cosmopolitan culture

An international perspective is integral to our Liberal Studies programme. With over 140 nationalities represented at Regent's (over 70 in Liberal Studies alone), coupled with a diverse faculty, you can be assured of an exciting classroom experience. You will be exposed to a wide variety of perspectives in one of the most international cities in the world.

You will enhance your future career and study opportunities by undertaking a degree that powerfully combines two of the most internationally influential higher education systems in the world. You will benefit from a curriculum influenced by the US liberal arts tradition, underpinned by the UK's rigorous regime of quality and academic standards.

A powerful network

Your education will be complemented by opportunities to build an international network of personal contacts that will set you apart from other graduates. Being part of our highly international student body gives you the chance to make new friends from diverse backgrounds, learn about different cultures and practise your linguistic skills.

At Regent's you will benefit from:

Personal attention from an experienced and distinguished faculty of scholars and practising professionals with diverse cultural backgrounds

A wide-ranging curriculum that combines theory with practical, hands-on learning

Easy and convenient access to the whole of London as well as mainland Europe

London as your classroom

The amazing cultural and historic resources of the city will be on your doorstep. You will be studying in one of the world's great capitals, a vibrant, multicultural city that offers new perspectives and unparalleled opportunities, making London itself an extension of the classroom.

London is one of the world's foremost commercial centres and boasts an amazing concentration of international institutes, academic and professional bodies. Many of these offer free resources and events for students and the general public, and are easily accessible from Regent's centrally located campus.

You will benefit from a range of guest speakers from a variety of professions and backgrounds, enhancing the 'real world' context of your studies. You will also have the opportunity to make field trips to London venues, helping to bring the subjects you are studying to life.

If you want to earn a degree that will prepare you to work with people of all cultures and equip you for the careers of the future, you will find what you are looking for at Regent's.

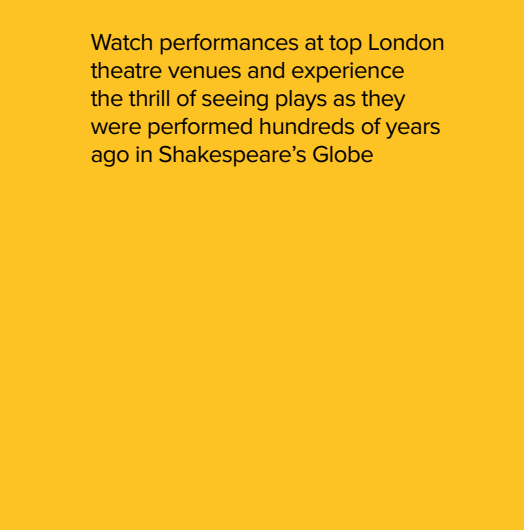

Explore London's amazing architecture and open spaces, including medieval cathedrals, royal palaces, 18th-century villas, picturesque parks and controversial 20th-century buildings

Walk in the footsteps of classic British writers: Sherlock Holmes' fictional residence in Baker Street is just down the road from the University, while you can retrace the footsteps of Virginia Woolf's Mrs Dalloway across Regent's Park

Spend time in London's world-class galleries and learn about the social, political, intellectual and religious contexts in which art was produced

Watch performances at top London theatre venues and experience the thrill of seeing plays as they were performed hundreds of years ago in Shakespeare's Globe

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies with Majors

This is an innovative programme that combines the breadth of study that is the hallmark of a US undergraduate degree, with the academic recognition of a UK honours degree. It offers flexibility and choice, enabling you to focus on a major subject at the same time as developing a broad range of skills and learning in other areas.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The BA (Hons) Liberal Studies with Majors is modelled on the traditional US liberal arts degree. It will allow you to concentrate on a major area of study while maintaining the breadth of learning that is a key feature of a liberal arts education.

It will enable you to develop knowledge and understanding together with essential life and employability skills, as well as helping you to think creatively and analytically.

The degree will also help you gain practical and professional skills for your future career, such as teamwork, problem-solving and understanding of different cultures.

The BA (Hons) Liberal Studies features three elements:

A general education foundation

A 'major' area of specialisation

A wide choice of additional modules

In Year 2, you will have the option to complete a period of study abroad (see pages 20-21). We have partnerships with over 100 institutions around the world. Your choice of institution will depend on your major.

Foundation/General Education

In the general education foundation year you will take a range of introductory classes that build skills in literacy, numeracy, reasoning and communication, as well as knowledge in subject areas such as science, humanities, business, international relations, media, psychology and politics. You will study the following modules:

Seminars I and 2

Business and Management

Humanities

International Relations

Media Studies

Psychology

Political Science

Quantitative Literacy

Scientific Understanding

Major

You will choose one or two majors (dual major) from the following subject areas:

Art History

Business & Management

English

Film Studies

History

International Relations

Journalism

Media & Communications

Political Science

Psychology

Public Relations

Elective modules

In addition to the five classes required for your major, from Year 1 onwards you will select five modules that enable you to explore a wider range of intellectual interests from the subject areas listed above.

More than 50 elective modules are available each year, subject to timetabling, ranging across the following subject areas:

Art History

Business & Management

English

History

International Relations

Media Communications

Political Science

Psychology

Public Relations

Journalism

Philosophy

Religious Studies

Sociology

Theatre Studies

Acting

Music Appreciation

'I decided to study at Regent's due to the location of the university; the flexibility of the course; the mixed variety of electives that are offered and the international characteristics it has.'

Nina Francis Knoch, Austria, BA (Hons)
Liberal Studies, Psychology Major

regents.ac.uk/nina

The Liberal Studies Capstone

In the final year of the programme all students complete a major project – the Liberal Studies Capstone. The purpose of this module is to bring the breadth of your learning and experience to bear on a major project.

The Capstone can take the form of a reflective practice-based project or a traditional written dissertation. It will run over two semesters and will be supervised by a minimum of one supervisor, although two may be allocated depending on the nature of the work.

Learning and assessment

You will be part of small, highly interactive classes that encourage collaboration and self-expression. A high level of contact with your tutors will enable you to develop your individual strengths, interests and style.

Tutors use a variety of approaches to help you learn and get the most out of your degree. Teaching methods include seminars, study groups, role plays, tutorials and external guest speakers.

You will learn through analysis, discussion and debate, practical problem-solving and teamwork, all of which are designed to help you develop key skills of independent critical thinking and confidence in decision-making.

Assessment methods vary according to the major and modules you choose, but may include essays, journals and reports, individual and group projects, creative portfolios, online exercises, presentations, tests and examinations.

Personal development

Completing this degree is not simply about the intellectual and practical skills you acquire, but also about your personal and professional development as an individual.

Throughout your programme you will receive academic advice and support to help you make choices that encourage you to grow personally, as well as realise specific educational and professional aims.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies

Art History Major

Art history is the study of drawing, painting, sculpture and architecture. On this major, it also involves examining the impact of social, cultural, political and economic factors on artists and their works. You will be studying images and objects from across the world, making the most of having London's unrivalled range of museums, galleries and art collections on your doorstep.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The Art History Major explores the production and reception of images and objects across time and space. It combines formal image or object analysis with research into why, when, where and for whom the image or object was produced.

The structure of this programme will give you knowledge across a broad range of art historical subjects and a variety of interdisciplinary areas, enabling you to relate art history to fields such as business, history and international relations.

You will learn to speak and write about art, as well as how to draw, gaining valuable direct understanding of the creative process. Many classes take place in museums, galleries, auction houses and private and corporate collections in and around London, giving you the opportunity to study images and objects first-hand.

What will I study?

Year 1

Contemporary Art

Introduction to Drawing

Introduction to the History of Art,
Parts 1 and 2

Introductory Special Subject in Art History

Year 2

Art and Business

Baroque Art

Early Renaissance Art and Society

Intermediate Special Subject in Art History

High Renaissance Art and Mannerism

Year 3

Curating

Enlightenment to Impressionism

Modernism to Postmodernism

Writing about Art

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will be taught by art historians with expertise in both historical and contemporary works of art. Classes take place in a wide variety of art spaces across London and, as class sizes are small, students benefit from plenty of interaction with faculty members and visiting experts.

You will be assessed through a mix of presentations, written work (including journals and essays), tests and exams.

What skills will I gain?

Ability to approach and research unfamiliar art with confidence

Ability to critically question, analyse and debate visual objects

Appreciation of interdisciplinary topics related to art history

Effective written, verbal and visual skills

Interpersonal skills

Future opportunities

Graduates of art history often seek careers in museums, galleries and auction houses, or in the wider visual fields of fashion, television, film or advertising.

You will also be able to build on the foundation offered by this degree to work in collections or conservation, whether of images, objects or architectural environments such as heritage sites.

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies Business & Management Major

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

In today's global business environment the pace of change is rapid and organisational complexity is the norm, but one thing that never changes is the necessity for effective, efficient and creative management. This major provides a broad-based framework in business and management knowledge to help you develop the skills necessary to thrive in the fast-moving and highly competitive business world.

The Business & Management Major is organised around core business subject areas – including accounting, marketing and operations – and core management skills, such as people management and creative leadership.

You will be able to take elective modules from across the Liberal Studies curriculum, exploring a wider range of intellectual interests alongside your major.

The major will develop your knowledge and understanding of the nature of business, the various components of an organisation, and the management process.

It will also enable you to use practical tools and techniques to analyse business cases and management scenarios.

You will explore a wide range of aspects relevant in today's business world, and learn how to adapt and respond to challenging situations.

This programme will provide you with a balanced mix of theoretical information and practical skills. You will learn, for example, how to manage and market a new organisational design, at the same time as reflecting on the ethical implications of any change management process.

As a result, you will gain skills and capabilities that are transferable across industries, cultures and life scenarios.

What will I study?

Year 1

Financial Accounting

Introduction to Macroeconomics

Introduction to Microeconomics

Management Accounting

Principles of Business Law

Year 2

Business Ethics

Business Finance

Operations and Supply Chain Management

People, Management and Organisations

Principles of Marketing

Year 3

Advanced Topics in Business and Management

Creative Leadership

International Business and Management

Strategic Management

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

Learning and assessment

Our teaching staff combine academic excellence with extensive practical experience. You will learn from highly qualified professionals with expertise in areas such as banking and finance, accounting, supply chain management, human resource management, marketing, law, manufacturing, management consultancy and the IT industry.

Learning takes place in a supportive environment using a variety of teaching methods. Small class sizes with internationally diverse students and frequent guest lecturers allow for interactive discussion and reflection. Classes also include presentations and experiential activities, and you will be assessed through a mix of projects, teamwork and simulations.

What skills will I gain?

Ability to manage and lead people and teams

Ability to use research methods effectively

Critical thinking, analysis and problem-solving skills

Global mindset and intellectual creativity

Situational awareness and adaptability

Future opportunities

You will acquire the skills that a good middle manager or business leader needs, including the ability to apply critical analysis to key organisational issues, and an awareness of the responsibilities of managers in an economic, social and environmental context.

The Business & Management Major will give you the potential for a stimulating career in a range of diverse industries, opening doors for you to work in a wide variety of positions in the private, public and charitable sectors.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies English Major

London has a uniquely complex and inspiring cultural, artistic and literary heritage. The English Major enables students to experience the creative symbiosis between authors and their environments, from watching Shakespeare's plays at The Globe theatre to following in the footsteps of Charles Dickens.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Integrated Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

On this major you will undertake an in-depth examination of the history of English literature from the medieval period, through the Renaissance, Enlightenment and Romantic eras, up to the present day.

Lectures and seminars will give you contextual knowledge to help you comprehend and enjoy the works being studied. You will also develop the art of presenting your interpretations to fellow students.

As you study, you will take advantage of Regent's proximity to a wealth of sites with literary associations and access the cultural riches within the city's museums and performance spaces.

What will I study?

Year 1

Introduction to Creative Writing

Introduction to Eighteenth Century and Romantic Literature

Introduction to Literary Theory and Criticism

Introduction to Medieval and Renaissance Literature

Introduction to Victorian and Modern Literature

Year 2

American Literature 1: Origins of the Civil War

American Literature 2: From the Civil War to the Present

From Text to Screen: Adapting Literature for Cinema

Intermediate Creative Writing

London's Literature

Year 3

Advanced Creative Writing

Literature in Context

Shakespearean Drama 1: Comedy and History

Shakespearean Drama 2: Tragedy and Tragi-comedy

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will be taught by lecturers who are highly experienced and qualified in both teaching and researching the subject areas of the Major, from experts in literary criticism and modern literature to leading lights in the study of Shakespeare and American and Victorian literature. Our lecturers bring expertise in comparative literature and creative writing, and have affiliations with prestigious universities and institutions across the globe.

Learning takes place through a wide variety of methods including lectures, seminars, field trips, performance trips and visual media. Assessment methods are similarly varied, including coursework essays, portfolios, peer reviews, learning diaries and exams.

What skills will I gain?

Skills in writing with precision, structure and elegance

In-depth appreciation of verbal style, narrative structure and literary meaning

Comprehension and command of the English language

Understanding of how authors have reinterpreted the world's mysteries, conflicts and pleasures

Future opportunities

You will gain a highly transferable set of skills relevant to a wide range of fields. Many English majors go on to work in professions that require analytical thought, eloquence and sensitivity to language, such as teaching, civil service, law and journalism. Others seek careers in the creative industries – especially publishing, theatre and film – or use their communication skills in advertising and marketing.

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

S.1. PARIS
L'ESSENTIEL

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies

Film Studies Major

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Film and other creative industries are competitive, high-pressure fields that constantly have to adapt to new technological, social, cultural and economic developments. On this major you will develop analytical and practical skills as you undertake a comprehensive study of film and related media, and learn the principles of film production.

The Film Studies Major will develop your understanding of film history and aesthetics, as well as theories about film and its cultural meanings, values and impact.

You will also be able to develop media production skills through creating short films of your own, giving you the opportunity to apply theoretical learning to professional working scenarios.

In addition to teaching various approaches to the study of film, we encourage our students to engage critically with popular culture, from Hollywood blockbusters to avant-garde digital filmmaking.

What will I study?

Year 1

Current Issues in Film Genre

Film History

Introduction to Film Studies

Introduction to Media Production

Media Analysis and Literacy

Year 2

Film Journalism and Criticism

Filmmaking: Cinematography and Post-Production

Media and Ethics

Script Analysis

Understanding World Cinemas

Year 3

Current Issues in Film Authorship

Film and Ideology

Media Audiences and Reception

Real to Reel:
Documentary Theory and Practice

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will be taught in lectures, film screenings and practical sessions by academics with both research and practical experience in the film industry.

You will benefit from access to state-of-the-art facilities, including a screening theatre, media production suite, post-production workstations and a photographic darkroom.

We also take full advantage of our central London location and industry contacts, supplementing our teaching with excursions and visits from expert speakers.

Assessment is through essays, research papers, video productions, group projects, presentations and script analysis.

What skills will I gain?

An in-depth understanding of film genres, filmmakers and film theory

An understanding of the film production process from both a theoretical and practical perspective

Knowledge of the historical, social, political and cultural context of cinema

The ability to analyse and research film from a variety of perspectives

The ability to decode and evaluate messages conveyed through the media

Project management, team-working, problem-solving and communication skills

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

Future opportunities

You could move on to a stimulating career in any area of film and broadcast production, from scriptwriting to production management to marketing. Alternatively, you could work in film archiving, curation or restoration for corporations, festivals or museums.

Our focus on transferable skills, including problem-solving and critical thinking, will equip you for a wide range of careers including journalism, project management, teaching and research.

Diverse London

Time	Length	Contributor	Segment/Title	Wks	Notes
10:00	10:00	10:00	10:00	10:00	10:00
10:05	10:05	10:05	10:05	10:05	10:05
10:10	10:10	10:10	10:10	10:10	10:10
10:15	10:15	10:15	10:15	10:15	10:15
10:20	10:20	10:20	10:20	10:20	10:20
10:25	10:25	10:25	10:25	10:25	10:25
10:30	10:30	10:30	10:30	10:30	10:30
10:35	10:35	10:35	10:35	10:35	10:35
10:40	10:40	10:40	10:40	10:40	10:40
10:45	10:45	10:45	10:45	10:45	10:45
10:50	10:50	10:50	10:50	10:50	10:50
10:55	10:55	10:55	10:55	10:55	10:55
11:00	11:00	11:00	11:00	11:00	11:00
11:05	11:05	11:05	11:05	11:05	11:05
11:10	11:10	11:10	11:10	11:10	11:10
11:15	11:15	11:15	11:15	11:15	11:15
11:20	11:20	11:20	11:20	11:20	11:20
11:25	11:25	11:25	11:25	11:25	11:25
11:30	11:30	11:30	11:30	11:30	11:30
11:35	11:35	11:35	11:35	11:35	11:35
11:40	11:40	11:40	11:40	11:40	11:40
11:45	11:45	11:45	11:45	11:45	11:45
11:50	11:50	11:50	11:50	11:50	11:50
11:55	11:55	11:55	11:55	11:55	11:55
12:00	12:00	12:00	12:00	12:00	12:00

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies History Major

History is the study of the human past, learning about the people, society, events and ideas of times gone by. As well as being important in itself, studying the past also helps to explain where we are today, and might even help us plan the future.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Studying history at Regent's means the whole of London is your classroom. London itself is nearly 2,000 years old, and it's also a wonderful place to explore world history. In addition to the city's historic buildings and landscape, there are world-class international archives and museums.

You will study various periods of time and a range of geographical and political areas. Regent's has particular strengths in classical history, British and European history, and Chinese and Asian history.

You will learn how to evaluate historical evidence, reach your own interpretation of it and present your conclusions. This is a discipline that encourages understanding of different societies and cultures, and you will therefore also study another language to intermediate level.

What will I study?

Year 1

History of London

Introduction to Western History

Study of History

The Formation of Modern Europe

The World's Religions

Year 2

20th Century Britain

20th Century Europe

American History

Medieval and Early Modern England

Topics in International History

Year 3

Advanced Topics in History

Medieval and Early Modern Europe

Philosophy of History

The History of Modern China:
Imperialism and Recovery

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

Teaching is structured around lectures and seminars, but also includes field trips to museums and historical sites in London and beyond. You will be taught by highly qualified historians who are actively involved in research and have a record of publication.

Assessment of this major has an emphasis on traditional writing skills (a vital skill for modern careers). You will write essays and exams, as well as researching a longer dissertation and giving spoken presentations.

What skills will I gain?

A broad understanding of the history of the modern world since 1350

Competence in research methods

Effective oral and written communication skills

In-depth knowledge of the history of one geographical area or historical epoch

The ability to analyse and interpret data

Future opportunities

Historians have always been valued by employers for their ability to gather, evaluate, interpret and present evidence. This has traditionally led them to careers in areas such as politics, public administration and law.

Careers directly related to history may be found in academia, archaeology, archive or museum work and librarianship. You could also consider opportunities in the media, publishing and teaching.

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies

International Relations

Major

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

As globalisation, sustainability, terrorism and foreign intervention continue to make their impact, this major intellectually prepares you to meet the challenges of tomorrow. The programme will help you understand and analyse the complexities of the modern world, place current global problems in historical perspective, and write, speak and think with clarity and precision.

The International Relations Major emphasises the understanding of global issues and world affairs through an interdisciplinary approach, including international relations, politics, sociology, economics and history.

You will explore the dynamics and structural characteristics of a wide range of issues including foreign policy, humanitarian, development and international political economy (IPE), across the global community.

Classes examine the complexities of different regions in the world, cross-border migration international organisations, diplomacy, war and peace, and human rights among many other exciting issues that define our times.

You will gain an in-depth understanding of the behaviour of states and the processes involved in the relationships between institutions of international governance.

This programme offers you an exclusive discounted membership to Chatham House (the Royal Institute of International Affairs), as well as the opportunity to participate in the Model United Nations.

What will I study?

Year 1

Contemporary International Security

International Law

International Relations Theory and Practice

Introduction to Human Rights

Politics of Development

Year 2

Contemporary African Politics and History

International Organisations

Research Methods for International Relations

The Politics of Conflict in the Middle East

The International Politics of the United States

Year 3

Current Latin American Politics

Diplomacy and Negotiations

International Political Economy

Media and Global Politics

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will be taught by internationally diverse academics and practitioners with vast experience in and outside academia. Hands-on learning is key – you will provide policy solutions to case studies, gain experience in research methodology and develop your statistical skills using new software.

Classes and seminars give ample opportunity to develop public speaking skills via presentations and conferences. Assessment is through written exams, assignments, individual and group presentations and simulations.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Integrated Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

What skills will I gain?

The ability to analyse intricate issues and provide pertinent responses

Critical thinking and well-developed analytical skills

Public speaking skills

Thorough theoretical understanding of global issues and an ability to design policy solutions

The ability to analyse and interpret data

Project management, team-working, problem-solving and communication skills

Future opportunities

This programme will equip you with the essential skills that employers want across a multitude of industries, offering ideal preparation for entry into careers including diplomacy, international business, economics, history, law and political science.

Our International Relations graduates have worked across the public and private sectors in government bodies and agencies, international organisations, non-governmental organisations, think-tanks, and academic and media establishments.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies

Journalism Major

Journalism has changed dramatically over the past 20 years. New technologies and social change continually challenge the traditional role of the journalist in gathering, processing and disseminating news, which has a tremendous impact on journalism as an industry and profession.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

This major combines theory with practice, providing you with the knowledge and skills a journalist needs to thrive in today's multi-platform, globalised, 24/7 media world.

You will critically examine the role of journalism and practice of journalists in contemporary society.

The major also provides hands-on experience in a newsroom environment, enabling you to develop your reporting and production skills on multiple platforms.

You will gain an understanding of journalism through historical and theoretical perspectives, and become knowledgeable about current debates and trends affecting the rapidly-changing industry.

You will investigate legal, regulatory and ethical issues, while gaining proficiency in media research methods and analysis techniques.

Along with helping you to develop your writing, broadcasting and photojournalism skills, this major will teach you how journalism relates to other areas of the media, including public relations, marketing and advertising.

This broad approach to the craft of journalism will offer you the opportunity to investigate issues and learn to tell stories with skill and passion.

What will I study?

Year 1

Digital Photography

Introduction to Media Production

Journalism in Society

Journalism Practice 1

Media Analysis and Literacy

Year 2

Interactive Media

Journalism Practice 2

Media and Ethics

Media Research Methods

Photojournalism

Year 3

Broadcast Reporting

Editorial Photography

Media and the Law

Publication and Design

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

Teaching methods include class discussions, class presentations, mock press conferences, outside reporting and newsroom exercises, along with many others.

Students are assessed through essays, exams, project portfolios, presentations, blogs, photography projects and journalistic articles.

Your teachers will be media experts and professional journalists. With London a global hub for journalism, you will benefit from field trips to media outlets and invited speakers from the industry.

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

What skills will I gain?

A critical understanding of the history, development and future of journalism

The ability to identify and evaluate potential stories, and to find the most compelling ways to present them

Knowledge of the ethical and legal challenges that journalists face and the intersection of journalism with politics, culture and society

Experience in reporting, writing and producing journalism to industry standards on multiple platforms

Future opportunities

The Journalism Major provides the foundations for a wide variety of careers across the media and communications industries.

You will become a multi-skilled, multimedia professional, ready for a career in journalism on all media platforms, or in allied areas such as corporate or non-profit communications roles, research or advertising.

Former students are now working in media, PR, marketing, publishing, digital media and film. Others have used their skills in their own business, family business, or within fashion, tourism and luxury brands.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies

Media & Communications

Major

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

Today's media-saturated societies are marked by a growing intensity in people's relationships with media. The Media & Communications Major examines the impact media and communications have socially, culturally and politically. This is a wide-ranging subject, constantly evolving and hugely relevant to modern life.

The Media & Communications Major brings together leading knowledge and practice, offering grounding in media history, theories and industry developments.

You will learn about current trends and debates, changing communications industries, media analysis techniques and research methods. You will also explore media law and regulatory issues in relation to both new technologies and established media.

Creative skills are as important as critical ones, and you will use and develop industry-standard techniques and tools for producing media content across visual, digital and emerging platforms.

What will I study?

Year 1

Digital Photography

Introduction to Media Production

Journalism in Society

Media, Communications and Culture

Understanding Social Media

Year 2

Critical Television Studies in the 21st Century

Identities in Media

Media and Ethics

Media Research Methods

Understanding World Cinema

Year 3

Current Issues in Media and Public Relations

Media and Global Politics

Media and the Law

TV Studio Production

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will benefit from small classes taught by people who are specialists in their fields and by industry professionals. Classes are enhanced by expert guest lecturers and field trips to relevant media sites and events.

Students are assessed through essays, exams, presentations, learning journals, portfolios, case studies and practical work.

London is a global hub for media and creative industries. From exploring the UK's leading cultural institutions such as the BBC, to visiting vibrant West End theatres or London's Silicon Roundabout, you will be in an ideal location to participate in a range of rich media-related activities, events and innovations.

What skills will I gain?

Critical and conceptual expertise related to the history, development and future of media and communications

Industry-standard applied skills for creating, understanding and developing media content and communication strategies

Strategic understanding of current and future media and communications industries, including how to adapt to rapid change

Understanding of the ways in which media and communications intersect with culture, politics, policy, innovation, industry and society

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

Future opportunities

This programme can be applied in a range of careers within the media and communications industries.

It will equip you with critical skills and knowledge of the field of media and communications, with a focus on developing content-creation skills across media platforms – including video, photography, social and digital media.

It emphasises media in international contexts and combines a broad knowledge foundation with highly specialised skills to equip you for success across a range of industries and careers.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies Political Science Major

Knowledge of political issues is essential for anyone seeking to understand how societies across the world operate and distribute power and scarce resources. Studying political science at Regent's will introduce you to the political institutions and cultures of many different countries, giving you a broad and deep knowledge of the complexity of global politics.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The Political Science Major offers a thorough grounding in the main theoretical concepts used in the field. Our expert staff and internationally diverse student population will ensure you encounter stimulating, engaging and challenging discussions that will enable you to consider global issues from a variety of perspectives.

You will learn how to formulate arguments with examples drawn from contemporary events and academic hypotheses. Through combining theory and practice, you will develop analytical skills that will assist in solving problems, understanding complex issues and developing policies.

As well as giving you an insight into the complexity of the political world, the study of political science interacts with a number of other fields, including economics, international relations, history and law.

What will I study?

Year 1

Energy Security and Economics

Introduction to Comparative Politics

Introduction to Political Ideologies

Society and Mass Violence

Theory and Practice in Political Science

Year 2

Crime and Society

Global Human Trafficking

NGOs and Civil Society

Research Methods for Political Science

The Politics of Gender

Year 3

British Politics

European Politics: Integration and Polarisation

Globalisation and Individual Lives

Theory and Practice of Social Enterprise

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

Our lecturers come from diverse backgrounds and have vast experience and knowledge in their field. Our programme puts strong emphasis on learning from experience, with outside activities complementing work in class.

You will participate in conferences, attend seminars given by influential politicians, take part in the Model United Nations, and may even attend international events in Geneva and New York. You can also make use of all the resources that London has to offer, such as the nearby British Library and (through an exclusive discounted membership) Chatham House.

What skills will I gain?

Ability to evaluate international and transnational dimensions of problems and policies

Ability to put contemporary political issues in historical context and use historical facts in building arguments about politics

Knowledge of the political institutions and processes of a range of countries

Understanding of the methods and analytical approaches used by political scientists to examine political institutions and processes

Future opportunities

The Political Science Major provides the skills and knowledge that will equip you for a career in a number of fields, such as politics, economics, business, diplomacy, government, NGOs, media, academia and law. The analytical skills you will gain from this degree are highly transferable and valued in many professions.

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies Psychology Major

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The study of psychology applies the scientific method to understand and predict human behaviour and experience. The Psychology Major covers theoretical and applied aspects of the science, encompassing areas such as personality, decision-making, memory, neuroscience, mental disorder and social interaction.

On this major you will explore in depth the scientific approach to understanding human behaviour and experience, while developing skills in critical thinking, reasoning, communication, research design and statistics.

You will gain a thorough grounding in applied areas of psychology, from social psychology to neuroscience to the psychology of fashion and sport.

As you progress in your studies, you will explore specific areas of psychology in greater depth, including sexuality, cultural differences and similarities, and evolution and behaviour.

You will also have access to our specialised facilities. These include workstations equipped with experiment software, psycho-physiological hardware, and software that records heart-rate and brain electrical activity.

We also have video and voice monitoring equipment, an eye-tracker with data analysis programmes, a comprehensive test library, and laboratory space specifically dedicated to psychology teaching and research testing.

What will I study?

Year 1

Conceptual and Historical Aspects of Psychology

Introducing Psychology

Introduction to Psychological Research Methods 1

Personality and Individual Differences

Psychology of Child and Adult Development

Year 2

Abnormal Psychology

Biological and Cognitive Psychology

Introduction to Psychological Research Methods 2

Social Psychology

The Psychology of Fashion

Year 3

Applied Psychology

Cultural Psychology

Evolutionary Psychology

Sexuality and Gender

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will benefit from the knowledge and expertise of our highly qualified staff, and from their links with national and international institutions. As well as enjoying close supervision and guidance via seminars, tutorials, lab classes and group work, you will visit key London sites such as the Freud Museum.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start dates

January and
September

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

What skills will I gain?

Appreciation of different research methodologies and approaches

Competencies in independent research, statistical analysis and academic writing

In-depth understanding of the essential components of psychology, including clinical, developmental, social, biological, cognitive, evolutionary and cultural psychology

Specialist knowledge of the application of psychology, including outside the discipline

Understanding of the complexity and diversity of human behaviour

Future opportunities

The study of psychology imparts a highly transferable set of skills, making it a popular subject with employers. Many psychology majors go on to work in professions that require statistical and analytical thought and independent research, such as civil service, local government and consultancy.

The skills you will gain are also useful to a career in marketing, media and the creative industries.

This programme will enable you to consider progressing to Regent's MSc Psychology to gain British Psychological Society accreditation and pursue a professional career in psychology.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies Public Relations Major

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The role of the PR professional has expanded rapidly in response to the growing link between a company's reputation and brand, and the demands of communicating on new media channels. Today's PR executive must add company strategy and two-way communications to their 21st century skillset, while still being an expert in the PR fundamentals of strategic planning, campaigns and media relations.

The Public Relations Major offers a thorough grounding in the history, theories and developments of the public relations industry. As well as exploring the PR issues of the day, you will develop the skills that a PR professional needs to help clients gain advantage in today's competitive marketplace and nurture relationships with their publics.

You will learn how to work effectively across the global, multimedia communications industries, developing skills in media relations, creating campaigns, writing and producing for the media, media law and ethics, business skills and crisis communications management. Crucially, you will also gain hands-on experience in applying your skills and strategies as you test concepts through real-world projects.

What will I study?

Year 1

Interpersonal Communications

Introduction to PR Strategies and Management

Media Relations

Understanding Social Media

Writing for PR and Media

Year 2

Corporate Communications Management

Managing Public Relations Campaigns

Media Research Methods

Media and Ethics

Visual Communications for Public Relations

Year 3

Crisis and Strategic Communications

Current issues in Media and Public Relations

Media and the Law

Political Communications

Major Capstone (dissertation)

Learning and assessment

You will benefit from small classes taught by staff who are specialists in their fields, with guest speakers from the PR industry and visits to London's media and PR outlets.

A variety of case studies and practice-based exercises will help you gain awareness of the many approaches to communications and best practice in a global marketplace, helping you to develop the skills needed to be a practising professional.

Assessment is through presentations, portfolios, essays, PR plans and campaigns.

What skills will I gain?

An understanding of how to manage company reputation and crisis situations

An understanding of news media and the skills needed to work productively with its members

Strategic skills in public relations and corporate communications, including analysis, planning, message-development and tactical solutions on all platforms

The ability to conceive and create campaign plans and briefing materials to meet a client's needs

Writing skills for business, media and public relations formats across all platforms

Future opportunities

This programme will prepare you for a wide variety of careers, including working in PR agencies, companies, non-profit organisations, advertising, the media and other communications roles. Former students have applied their PR skills to roles within companies ranging from art galleries to charities, and specialist areas such as motor racing and luxury brands.

This major is an area of specialisation within the BA (Hons) Liberal Studies programme. For information on the full Liberal Studies curriculum see page 76.

For module descriptions, visit us online regents.ac.uk/study

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with Foundation

Start dates

January and September

Psychology

Psychology is the scientific study of human experience and behaviour. As a student of psychology, you will explore the nature and causes of behaviour and experience – from the structure and mechanisms of the brain to how people behave in groups, and child and adult development. A degree in psychology can open doors to a wide range of careers.

Psychology at Regent's offers:

A rich, demanding and varied degree accredited by the British Psychological Society

An opportunity to learn about a range of different psychological theories and ideas, from a variety of different perspectives

Dedicated laboratory facilities with state-of-the-art equipment for eye-tracking and recording of psycho-physiological measures such as brain activity, heart rate and galvanic skin response

Small class sizes carefully set according to the type of learning activity

Personal attention from dedicated and highly qualified academic staff, offering a depth and diversity of experience and expertise

Online access to over 700 journals in psychology and related disciplines

We enable our undergraduates to develop as scholars and professionals who think independently, are well-informed and are able to work skilfully and ethically in a variety of settings.

The practical application of academic knowledge is an important feature of all degree programmes at Regent's.

As well as attending lectures, seminars and tutorials, you will participate in laboratory classes involving the running of experiments and data analysis, and learn how to conduct your own psychology experiments, working with other students, as well as researching independently.

Working professionally as a psychologist

The BSc (Hons) Psychology is accredited by the British Psychological Society, conferring Graduate Basis for Chartered Membership if your degree classification is a lower second or above. This will enable you to undertake specialist postgraduate study in psychology.

For example, after graduating with an accredited degree in psychology and having completed postgraduate training, you might choose to work in one of the following areas:

Clinical psychology: working in hospitals, health centres, clinics and social services with clients who have mental health needs

Educational psychology: working with children and families in schools, nurseries and family centres

Counselling psychology: working in hospitals, doctors' surgeries, schools, prisons, industry and private practice

Occupational psychology: working in job selection and training, vocational guidance and industrial rehabilitation

Forensic psychology: working in the prison service, secure hospitals and young offender units

Health psychology: working in healthcare and workplace settings to promote healthy behaviour and carrying out research into health-related behaviour

Academic psychology: working in research and/or teaching psychology

Organisational psychology: working in industry, human resources, consultancy and social services.

A psychology degree is enormously versatile and many people who have studied and graduated in psychology have gone on to varied and disparate careers.

‘The psychology programme provides us with plenty of modules in order for us to find our best fit for the future. The career path which has spoken to me the most is aiming for a PhD in neuropsychology.’

Stella Ivana Kiss, Germany/ Hungary, BSc (Hons) Psychology

Integrated Psychology Foundation

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The Integrated Foundation year offers a thorough grounding in psychology topics, helping you to develop valuable theoretical and practical experience and knowledge at a measured pace. It will help you to develop the skills and knowledge you will need for study at degree level.

If you do not have the qualifications for direct entry to a UK undergraduate degree, we offer a four-year programme with a year of foundation studies, the BSc (Hons) Psychology with Integrated Foundation.

The Foundation year is suitable for students from diverse backgrounds, including those without formal educational qualifications. It is designed for beginners, as well as those with some knowledge or experience of the subject, or who want to explore the possibility of studying for a degree.

We welcome applicants with relevant work experience, as well as those who feel that after a long absence from education they would benefit from a foundation year to help them find their feet in an academic environment.

In your foundation year you will study all the main areas of psychology including memory, emotion, group behaviour, and prejudice and discrimination, as well as areas such as counselling and psychotherapy.

You will see how psychological principles are applied in fields such as health, sport and education. The course will help to familiarise you with the learning environment, enabling you to develop new skills as well as refresh existing ones. In particular, you will develop the research and statistical skills you need for study at degree level and beyond.

The BSc (Hons) Psychology with Integrated Foundation will give you a strong base on which to build your future study. It will enable you to:

Gain a challenging and enjoyable overview of psychology

Develop an understanding of the theoretical, methodological and practical elements involved

Benefit from a student-centred learning experience in a supportive environment

Acquire a thorough grounding in the skills necessary in higher education

What will I study?

The foundation year of the degree is a full-time programme divided into two 12-week terms. You will study six core modules:

Introducing Psychology

Applied Psychologies

Brain and Behaviour

Introduction to Counselling

Research Methods and Experimental Design with Statistics for Beginners

Social and Developmental Psychology

Next steps

Completion of the foundation year will enable you to progress to the three-year BSc (Hons) degree in Psychology. For more information on the degree programme modules, see page 104.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

One year, full time

Start date

September

Accredited by:

For module descriptions,
visit us online
regents.ac.uk/study

'I have learned so much in the foundation year and in the future, I would like to study the psychology of music. I want to help people with psychological illness with music. It is an alternative and powerful way of communicating with another person.'

Chloe Young, France,
BSc (Hons) Psychology
with Integrated Foundation

regents.ac.uk/chloe

BSc (Hons) Psychology

Why do people behave in the way they do? What is intelligence? Can we define and measure personality objectively? What are the causes of anti-social behaviour and can we eliminate it? Can neuroimaging help us understand how we think, feel, perceive, and interact with others? If you are interested in gaining insight into human behaviour, psychology is the degree of choice for you.

Location

Regent's Park

Duration

Three years, full time

Four years with
Foundation

Start date

September

Accredited by:

The British
Psychological Society
Accredited

This programme is under review and there may be some changes to the content outlined below. Please check our website for the latest information.

The aim of psychology is to understand and predict behaviour. It applies the principles of scientific method to help us understand how we behave under various conditions, in various contexts and in different environments.

By studying psychology, you will discover a wealth of research on the nature and causes of human behaviour and will also develop new skills of research design, analysis, reasoning, critical thinking and statistical analysis.

You will explore contemporary and interdisciplinary issues in psychology and learn to put evidence-based knowledge into practice.

The BSc (Hons) Psychology offers you the opportunity to study all areas of psychology in depth as well as choosing from a range of options in your second and third year.

You will study all the core areas of psychology – biological and cognitive psychology, lifespan development, social psychology, individual differences, historical issues and concepts in psychology, research methods, and others.

In your second and third year, you will choose from options such as psychopathology, the psychology of fashion, counselling psychology, health psychology, the psychology of sexuality and gender, and forensic psychology.

In your final year, you will apply what you have learned by conducting an original, independent research project, supervised by a member of psychology staff.

This programme is accredited by the British Psychological Society (BPS), conferring Graduate Basis for Chartered Membership of the BPS.

What will I study?

The BSc (Hons) Psychology combines theoretical and practical components and develops your academic and research skills across three years, with your knowledge and understanding building from one year to the next. You will gain a thorough grounding in the essentials of the discipline, before specialising in the areas that interest you most. The psychology curriculum features the following modules:

Year 1

Biological and Cognitive Psychology

Conceptual and Historical Issues in Psychology

Global Perspectives

Individual Differences and Society

Life Span 1

Research Methods 1 and 2

Year 2

Applied Cognitive Psychology

Applied Social Psychology

Biopsychology

History and Concepts in Therapies and Counselling Psychology

Life Span 2

Research Methods 3 and 4

You will also choose one of the following:

Psychopathology

Psychology of Sport, Performance and Expertise

'I have learned to manage my time effectively, and make use of the available resources. All the staff are happy to help. We also have a Psychology librarian who can give us expert advice on books and referencing.'

Ellen Ryan, UK,
BSc (Hons) Psychology

regents.ac.uk/ellen

Volunteering in a relevant setting is a great way to learn about psychology at first hand. Our students have been involved in activities such as shadowing a forensic psychologist in prison, working in a drugs rehabilitation unit and researching personality profiling tests for an innovative new video game.

Year 3

Cultural Psychology

Positive Psychology

Research Project

You will also choose one of the following*:

Counselling Psychology

Forensic Psychology

Health Psychology

Psychology of Fashion

Psychology of Sexuality and Gender

Learning and assessment

Teaching methods include lectures, laboratory classes, debates, field trips, talks from invited speakers and seminar sessions.

You will be assessed using a variety of methods, including research reports, essays, individual and group presentations and examinations. In most modules, the exam is worth 50% of the final module grade and coursework the remaining 50%.

* Modules are offered subject to demand and may change

What skills will I gain?

Research design and execution

Statistical analysis of complex data using specialist software

Problem-solving and scientific reasoning

Understanding behaviour as it is observed and studied under different conditions and contexts

Scientific analysis of behaviour

Effective communication via oral, visual and written presentation

Planning and project management

Information-gathering and synthesis

Future opportunities

This programme provides a thorough grounding for graduates who wish to go on to qualify as a professional psychologist, offering the widest choice of entry to postgraduate psychology courses in the UK after graduation.

You can choose to specialise in many different fields, including clinical, educational, health, occupational, counselling and forensic psychology (see page 100).

A degree in psychology will equip you with transferable skills that are highly valued by employers, including the ability to evaluate evidence, analyse research data, communicate clearly and solve complex problems.

It offers a good grounding for a range of careers in fields such as health, education, social services, advertising, marketing and human resources.

For module descriptions, visit us online regents.ac.uk/study

Admissions

Our students come from many backgrounds, but they all share a combination of academic ability and enthusiasm for new challenges. We invite applications from students with the potential to succeed and the maturity and motivation to complete a demanding programme.

Our admissions guidelines are under review. Please check the website or contact us for the most up-to-date information. We currently accept applications from students with the following qualifications:

Business & Management

Integrated Business Foundation

A minimum of five passes at GCSE/IGCSE (or equivalent) level at grade C or above, including English and mathematics.

BA and BSc (Hons) degrees

A minimum of three passes at GCE A-level at grade C or above and five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English and mathematics.

Language study on the BA (Hons) International Business and BA (Hons) International Events Management

English is the language of instruction on these programmes. Of the languages offered on undergraduate programmes (see page 48), you cannot study your native language. In addition, you may only take one language at beginner level. We will give you a diagnostic test in your chosen language at registration to determine which language class you will be placed in. We reserve the right to make changes to your degree choice based on the result of this test. Please bring originals or certified documents of all your language qualifications on registration day. Non-English documents must be accompanied by an original official certified/ notarised English translation.

Film, Media & Performance

Acting Foundation

A minimum of five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English and mathematics.

Integrated Media Production Foundation

A minimum of five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English. Students must also have successfully completed GCSE mathematics.

BA (Hons) degrees

A minimum of two passes at GCE A-level at grade C or above and five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English and mathematics.

In addition to meeting the above academic requirements, applicants for the BA (Hons) degrees must pass an audition or attend a face-to-face interview. If you apply for the BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre, once we have processed your application, we may invite you to attend an audition. You will receive an audition pack in advance, which includes speeches from which you may select and guidelines on preparing for your audition. If you are unable to come to London we will ask you to produce and submit a DVD portfolio in replacement of your audition.

Fashion & Design

Integrated Design Foundation programmes

A minimum of five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English. Students must also have successfully completed GCSE mathematics.

BA (Hons) degrees

A minimum of two passes at GCE A-level at grade C or above and five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English. Students must also have successfully completed GCSE mathematics.

Portfolio assessment

Applicants for all BA (Hons) programmes except BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing may be asked to submit their portfolio for assessment. This is so that our academic team can assess whether you are ready to study at degree level or if entry at Foundation level would be more appropriate to your current skills and knowledge.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk

Liberal Arts & Humanities

Integrated Foundation

A minimum of five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above (or equivalent), including English. Students must also have successfully completed GCSE mathematics.

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies with Majors

A minimum of three passes at GCE A Level at grade C or above.

Psychology

Integrated Psychology Foundation

A minimum of five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English and mathematics.

BSc (Hons) Psychology

A minimum of two passes at GCE A-level at grade C or above and five passes at GCSE/IGCSE level at grade C or above, including English and mathematics.

Equivalent qualifications

We also accept other equivalent qualifications as recommended by the National Academic Recognition Information Centre. For a full list, see our website or contact us for further advice.

Transfer of credits for BA/BSc (Hons) applicants

If you have already participated in education at degree level, you may be able to transfer some of your credits towards one of our degree programmes. You will need to show evidence of equivalent qualifications from another university that meet the learning outcomes of the undergraduate degree programme to which you are applying.

You may only transfer into Year 1 or Year 2 of a degree due to the structure of the course. Transfer into the final year of a degree is not possible. To apply for transfer of credit, please provide detailed descriptions (with certified English translations where necessary) of any courses taken and transcripts of relevant grades. Transfer of credit will only be assessed before entry and is at the discretion of the University.

English language requirements

All programmes are taught in English, and you will need to be reasonably fluent in the language. If English is not your native language, we will require evidence of your English proficiency. However, you may be exempt from taking an English language test if the last three years of your full-time education have been taught completely in English.

We accept the following qualifications (the minimum grades required are indicated):

Foundation programmes

Cambridge Certificate in Advanced English, grade C

GCSE/IGCSE English, grade C

IB Diploma English A grade 4 or above

HL or SL. English B grade 5 at HL

IELTS (International English Language Testing System) with an overall score of 5.5 (overall score of 6.0 if applying for the Liberal Studies Foundation programme)

Pearson Test (PTE Academic) with 51 points overall (overall score of 53 points if applying for the Liberal Studies Foundation programme)

BA/BSc (Hons) degree programmes

Cambridge Certificate in Advanced English, grade C

GCSE/IGCSE English, grade C

IB Diploma English A, grade 4 or above, HL or SL.

English B grade 5 at HL

IELTS (International English Language Testing System) with an overall score of 6.0

Pearson Test (PTE Academic) score of 53

Other English language qualifications may be accepted. Please see our website or contact us for more information.

On-campus English diagnostic test

If you live in London or are able to visit us, we can offer you a free English diagnostic test through our on-campus English Language School (see page 18). For more information or to arrange a test, please contact enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Visa applicants

Students who require a Tier 4 (General) visa to study in the UK and whose native language is not English, may also be required to meet specific grade requirements and conditions of study as stipulated by UK Visas and Immigration. Please check their website for current information: www.gov.uk/tier-4-general-visa

How to Apply

Applying to study at Regent's University London is a quick and easy process. We accept direct applications, have no formal application deadlines and there is no application fee.

Start dates

Start dates and the length of programmes vary, so please see individual programme pages for more information, or check our website.

Step 1 Apply

You can apply directly to us through our website at regents.ac.uk/apply

A hard-copy application form can be downloaded from our website for printing. If you would like us to send you a copy, please email enquiries@regents.ac.uk or call +44 (0)20 7487 7505.

Applicants for undergraduate degree programmes may also apply through UCAS at www.ucas.com (the Regent's University London code is R18). A full list of programme codes is available on the UCAS website.

Regent's independent status means that even if you have already made five choices via the UCAS system, you can still make a sixth application by applying directly to us.

You may also apply through the US Common Application system at www.commonapp.org (If you apply this way, please do not also apply through UCAS or make a direct application.)

Together with your completed application form, you should also send us the following supporting documents. These can be attached to your online application or sent via email or post.

Copies of academic transcripts and certificates from all previous studies, (i.e. secondary school and/or university certificates)

A letter of academic reference. This should be on official headed paper, or emailed to admit@regents.ac.uk from an official company or educational institution email account

A 300–500-word personal statement outlining the reasons for applying to your chosen programme, and how you feel you will benefit from the course of study

Applicants for credit transfer: official copies of all college/university transcripts, together with official English translations and module descriptions where appropriate

A copy of the photograph (ID) page of your passport

One recent digital (jpeg) head-and-shoulders colour photograph of yourself (please send to admit@regents.ac.uk)

If you are not a native English speaker, proof of your English proficiency (see page 107)

Step 2 Making an offer

We will assess whether you meet our minimum entry requirements and will make you an offer via email, or notify you that you have been unsuccessful. If you have applied through UCAS, you will also receive official notification through the UCAS system.

If you have met all the conditions, you will be sent an unconditional offer. If you still have to finish your exams, or have yet to submit supporting documentation, you will be issued a conditional offer. You can expect to receive a decision on your application within 10 working days of receipt of your completed application and supporting documents.

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/apply

Step 3 Accepting the offer

If you wish to accept the offer you must:

Confirm your acceptance via email/post/
UCAS/telephone/in person

Pay the non-refundable registration fee

Pay the non-refundable non-EU advance tuition fee deposit (if applicable)

For details of fees, see page 110.

Step 4 Full acceptance and visa

Once we receive your acceptance we will issue the final set of documentation, and (where needed) the relevant visa support documentation.

Both offer and acceptance of a place at Regent's University London are subject to your meeting any conditions upon which your offer was dependent, and the rules and regulations relating to the University and its programmes.

Visa applicants

To find out if you need a student visa please consult the UK Visas and Immigration website: www.gov.uk/visas-immigration
Please note it is your responsibility to arrange the appropriate visa.

If you need to apply for an international student visa to study in the UK, then we recommend you pay your registration fee and non-EU advance deposit as soon as possible.

Tuition Fees

Degree programme	Description	2018/19
Business & Management
Integrated Business Foundation	Annual tuition fee *	£17,000
BA (Hons) Global Management with Pathways	Annual tuition fee *	£17,000
BA (Hons) International Business	Annual tuition fee *	£17,000
BA (Hons) International Events Management	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
Fashion & Design
Integrated Design Foundation	Annual tuition fee	£11,000
BA (Hons) Fashion Design	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
BA (Hons) Fashion Design with Marketing	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
BA (Hons) Fashion Marketing	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
BA (Hons) Interior Design	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
Film, Media & Performance
Acting Foundation	Total programme cost	£11,000
BA (Hons) Acting & World Theatre	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
Integrated Media Production Foundation	Annual tuition fee	£11,000
BA (Hons) Film, TV & Digital Media Production	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
BA (Hons) Screenwriting & Producing	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
Liberal Arts & Humanities
BA (Hons) Liberal Studies with Majors	Annual tuition fee *	£17,000
Psychology
Integrated Psychology Foundation	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
BSc (Hons) Psychology	Annual tuition fee	£17,000
Home/ EU advance deposit	Non-refundable deposit towards tuition fees for home/ EU students	£1,000
Non-EU advance deposit	Non-refundable deposit towards tuition fees for students outside the EU	£4,000

* This programme also has a spring entry point. Please note the fees above relate to autumn entry and may vary for students commencing their studies in spring.

Email enquiries
finance@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7447

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk

All fees are quoted in GBP (pounds sterling). As Regent's University London is a private institution, all students pay the same fees regardless of nationality.

Tuition fees are set 12 months in advance and are normally subject to an inflation-linked increase of up to 4% at the start of each academic year in the autumn.

Tuition fees are set for the University's financial year which runs from 1 August to 31 July. Annual fees for students commencing studies in spring will span financial years. Spring and autumn fees will be invoiced at the rate applicable for that term.

Fees are reviewed from time to time and may change from those listed. The University reserves the right to make such alterations or amendments as necessary. Please consult the website for current information.

How to pay

Fees are payable by the term. You will receive an invoice for each term of study during online enrolment. All students must make full payment of all tuition fees no less than two weeks prior to the first day of term. A student will not be fully registered until full payment is received. Tuition and services may be withdrawn in the case of non-payment.

Payment may be made by credit or debit card, online or in person, bank transfer or cheque. Transaction charges may apply depending on how funds are remitted to the University. All fees should be made payable to Regent's University London. For full payment options, see regents.ac.uk/how-to-pay

Please note that the University does not accept cash payments. For payment related questions please contact finance@regents.ac.uk or call +44 (0)20 7487 7447.

Refund policy

If you begin a programme of study and then wish to withdraw, you must advise the Registry and officially withdraw in writing. Once you have officially withdrawn, you may claim a refund in line with the University's refund policy prevailing at the time the student withdraws.

For full information, including the University refund policy, please see regents.ac.uk/study/how-to-pay/payment-terms-conditions

Financing Your Studies

Regent's University London is an independent, not-for-profit institution. Our students pay the same fees, regardless of nationality, which enables us to provide the highest level of service and education. However, we aim to ensure that every student is able to participate on academic merit alone.

Regent's offers a number of scholarships and bursaries to help with the cost of tuition fees. You can also apply for loans, sponsorship or other funding opportunities to help finance your studies at Regent's.

Undergraduate scholarships

We offer a range of undergraduate scholarships to help with the cost of tuition fees. Visit the scholarships and funding page on our website for further information.

Bursaries

Means-tested bursaries covering the full cost of fees for full-time study on undergraduate programmes are available. Bursaries do not cover living costs.

Depending on their programme, bursary students may also receive a contribution of up to £6,000 towards the cost of a period of study abroad.

The scheme is open to UK nationals who are resident in the UK. For more details of the criteria for awards and how to apply, visit regents.ac.uk/bursaries

Alternative loan funding

Alternative loan funding for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying at Regent's University London may be available through Future Finance, please see regents.ac.uk/future-finance

Student Finance England

Loans and grants relating to tuition fees and maintenance costs for a first degree are available from Student Finance England for UK residents and may be available for EU nationals. Nationals of non-EU countries resident in the UK may also qualify for support.

Please note that fee loans for undergraduate students in the independent higher education sector are currently capped at £6,000 (as opposed to £9,000 for students in public sector higher education). For information on eligibility and how to apply, visit www.gov.uk/student-finance

State-sponsored funding - Norway and Sweden

Loans and grants for Norwegian and Swedish students studying for undergraduate degrees are available. For more information, visit www.lanekassen.no (Norway) or www.csn.se (Sweden).

US financial aid

For information on financial aid for US-passport holders or Green Card holders visit regents.ac.uk/us-finance

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk/funding

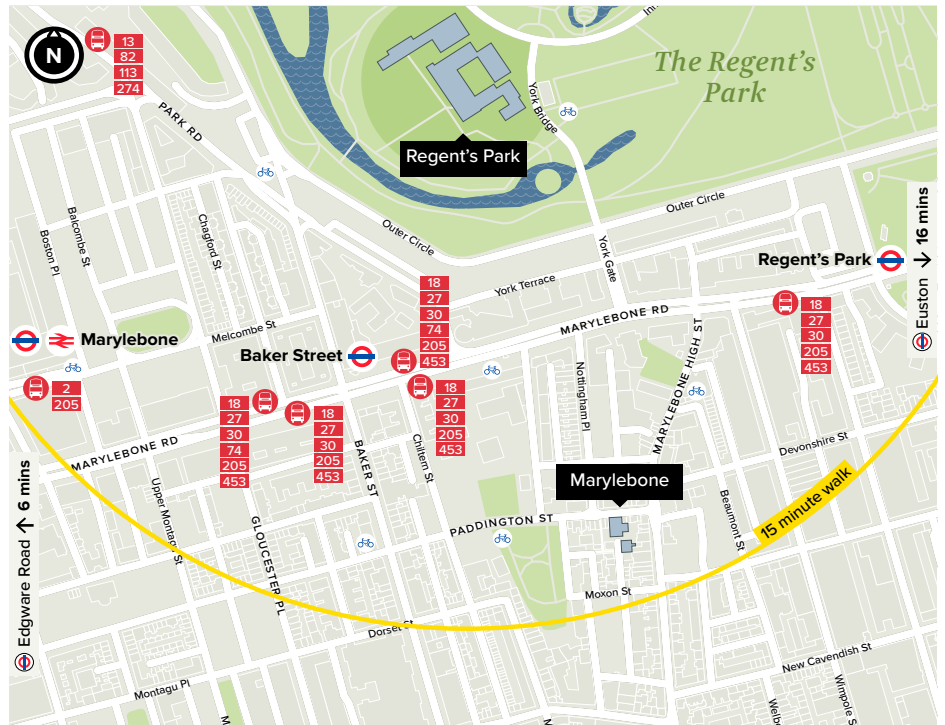

‘The scholarship allowed me to demonstrate the intellectual initiative to research and develop a topic thoroughly. Words cannot describe how I felt when I received the call saying I had won one of the scholarships. I had always dreamed of attending school overseas, but it wasn’t a reality until I was awarded this scholarship.’

Paige Henke, USA,
BA (Hons) International Business

How to Find Us

We look forward to welcoming you to Regent's University London. Our campus in Regent's Park and specialist facilities in Marylebone are a short walk from each other and are easily accessible by public and private transport.

Regent's Park campus
Inner Circle
Regent's Park
London NW1 4NS

Main switchboard:
020 7487 7700

By Underground

Take the London Underground (Tube) to Baker Street station.

From Baker Street Station

Take the Marylebone Road exit. Turn left and walk past Madame Tussauds.

For the Regent's Park campus, take the first left at York Gate. Continue over the bridge into the park. The University entrance is on the left.

For the Marylebone site, cross the road at the traffic lights at York Gate. Turn left and first right into Marylebone High Street. For the entrance to the Paddington Street building, turn right into Paddington Street. For the accessible entrance in Garbutt Place, turn right into Moxon Street, then right into Garbutt Place.

By Road

Both sites are off the A501 (Marylebone Road) in central London.

From London Heathrow Airport

Heathrow Express train service to Paddington station. London Underground from Paddington to Baker Street station. Total journey time approximately 35 minutes.

From London Gatwick Airport

Gatwick Express train service to Victoria station. London Underground from Victoria to Baker Street station. Total journey time approximately 60 minutes.

From London City Airport

Docklands Light Railway (DLR) to Canning Town station. London Underground from Canning Town to Baker Street station. Total journey time approximately 45 minutes.

From St Pancras International, home to the Eurostar

London Underground from King's Cross St Pancras to Baker Street station. Total journey time approximately 10 minutes.

Regent's Park Campus

Map key

- ➔ Campus entrance
- ⊕ Building entrance
- ♿ Accessible entrance
- 🚲 Bicycle parking
- P Car park
- i Reception

Marylebone Site

Map key

- ⊙ Building entrance
- ⊙ Accessible entrance

This prospectus is prepared ahead of the academic period to which it relates to give potential applicants an overview of the programmes intended to be available.

Every effort is made to ensure that the information provided is accurate at the time of printing. However some changes, for example to programmes or fees, may become necessary for staffing, financial, regulatory and academic reasons.

Regent's University London will endeavour at all times to keep any changes to a minimum and to keep students informed appropriately. For updates to the information in this prospectus, visit regents.ac.uk/prospectusupdates.

Regent's dealings and contracts with students and prospective students do not create a contract or other legally binding relationship between the University and anyone else, for example parents, guardians or sponsors.

© Regent's University London 2017

Email enquiries
enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Telephone enquiries
+44 (0)20 7487 7505

Visit us online
regents.ac.uk

regents.ac.uk/socialmedia

For a copy of this publication in an alternative format, please call +44 (0)20 7487 7505
or email enquiries@regents.ac.uk

Regent's University London
Inner Circle
Regent's Park
London NW1 4NS
United Kingdom

T +44 (0)20 7487 7505
F +44 (0)20 7487 7425
E enquiries@regents.ac.uk

regents.ac.uk
regents.ac.uk/socialmedia

Registered Charity 291583

UK Quality Assured