OXFORD
BUSINESS
COLLEGE
Prospectus

Introduction to the College

Oxford Business College is an independent higher education establishment situated in the centre of Oxford and well placed for all the facilities the city has to offer.

History & Accreditations

The College was founded in 1985 with a distinct position in the post-18 independent educational sector. Our qualifications can be used as a route to a degree or as a recognised qualification as a way into the job market. Since 2012 Oxford Business College has undergone oversight by the Quality Assurance Agency (QAA).

The College has been accredited by Edexcel as its awarding body since 2005. Edexcel is the UK's leading provider of internationally recognised vocational qualifications.

The College is a member of Independent Higher Education. IHE is the official membership association for accredited independent colleges of Further and Higher Education in the UK, and your guarantee of quality.

Flexibility

Most of our programmes allow you to start your studies in January, April, July and October, with the majority of subjects being assessed rather than examined. You can enrol on our Business English Language Preparation programme on any Monday.

Academic Strengths

Not only do our tutors have outstanding academic qualifications, but they also have extensive experience in senior management positions. Our small size classes and personalised teaching methods all contribute to the College's success and high students' satisfaction levels.

To provide each individual learner with the most positive learning experience

The OBC mission

The College are experts in business qualifications; from A Levels and Foundation to BTEC HNC and HNDs in Business, with the fast-track option for those who want to save time. Along with English courses, preparation programmes for Masters, and corporate training, we have the academic excellence, small class sizes and pastoral care for you to achieve your goals!

General Information

Accommodation & Welfare

Oxford Business College assists students in finding accommodation in Oxford either privately or with an approved host family. Oxford Business College offers newly built student halls of residence. This dedicated student accommodation is located near Oxford city centre. The stylish en-suite rooms are a perfect choice for undergraduate, postgraduate and international students seeking student accommodation close to our college.

Students coming from outside of Oxford are given additional help in order for them to integrate more effectively into Oxford life - assistance in registering with the doctor is an example of the type of help given.

Sports & Social

A number of sporting and social activities are organised each term, such as football matches, bowling, and international parties. The College has a Student Council active in initiating and organising these events.

Admissions

We would advise prospective students to visit the College to discuss individual academic requirements with the College's experienced admissions team. If you are interested in a course at the College then please telephone to arrange a convenient time for an informal interview. International students may find it difficult to visit the College so we would recommend you to contact us by telephone or e-mail.

The City Of Oxford

Oxford has been a city of learning since the 13th century. Oxford Business College has over the years built up a reputation as an acclaimed centre of education within this great city.

The number of students from both within the UK and internationally continues to increase, as our students benefit not only from our expertise in Business and Management but also from the academic climate which predominates in the city.

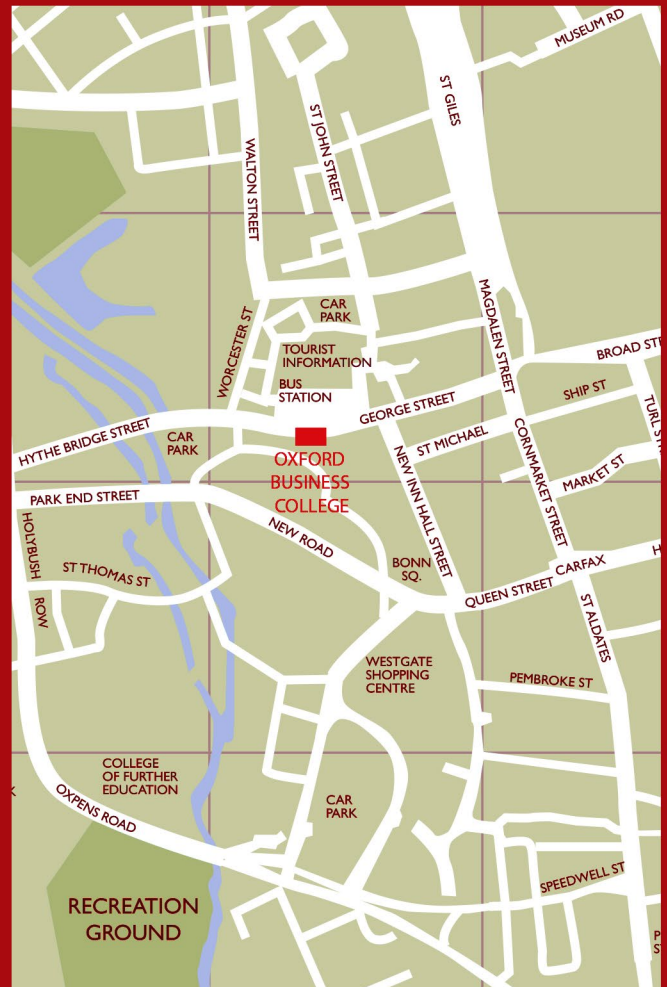

A number of legendary leaders, Nobel Prize winners and entrepreneurs have graduated from this great city.

Oxford not only thrives as an education centre but has also over the years attracted leading industries such as publishing, market research, pharmaceuticals and car manufacturing.

The city is also fortunate to have an extensive range of social, cultural and sporting opportunities. Inside the city there is a wealth of cinemas, theatres, galleries, concerts and societies. Outside, Oxford is surrounded by wonderful countryside. There are good rail and bus links both between Oxford and other major cities.

Location

OBC is a 5 minute walk from the train station, opposite Gloucester Green Coach Station. Nearest car park: Worcester Street car park.

All information contained in this prospectus is correct at the time of going to press. Oxford Business College reserves the right to make changes to courses, tutors and so on as the College deems necessary.

Course Content

Business English:

The Business English module allows students to acquire knowledge of the language skills necessary to succeed in business. The materials used are designed to practise the English language in a variety of contexts, including describing products and markets, conducting meetings and negotiations. Classroom exercises, including case studies and role-plays, allow students the opportunity to develop their confidence in an international business English context.

Conversational Fluency:

Developing the confidence to interact with tutors and peers, and to participate fully in seminars and lectures, is the focus of this part of the course. Fluency is developed through 1-1 and group exercises with a strong emphasis on pronunciation. Audio-visual material and lectures offer exposure to a variety of spoken English media. Students are also offered tuition on improving academic and professional life.

Reading and Writing for Business Studies

This part of the Business English course is designed specifically to help students with their business studies assignments, utilising a variety of reading texts taken from authentic academic and business sources and offering students the business vocabulary necessary to produce successful assignments. Tuition is given on how to structure and produce business essays and reports for a variety of business studies topics.

Pathways

A part of our international English courses the English Language for Academic Study courses are designed to provide international students with the language and skills needed in order to be successful in a number of Oxford Business College courses as well as for further and higher education courses. Our Business English courses here at Oxford aim to develop a students' level of general English language, while also providing skills such as the planning and writing of academic texts, understanding lectures and note taking and the preparation and presentation of seminars. The length of time a student should allow for English language preparation depends on their ability and learning capacity.

Specialist English Courses

Delivered by: OXFORD
BUSINESS
COLLEGE

Oxford Business College offers specially designed English courses for international corporations & students. This gives the opportunity to the international corporate community to gain first-hand experience of living in the UK.

We deliver the following English courses:

- English for academic purposes
- English for aviation purposes

Course Content

English for Academic Purposes:

You will develop all the skills needed to use English in an appropriate way in preparation for university or college. You will improve in all areas — reading, writing, speaking and listening — to ensure you are prepared for life in your chosen university or college. Important skills such as creating and giving formal presentations, writing essays, summarizing, critiquing academic texts and far more, will be yours.

English for Aviation Purposes:

It is a prerequisite that all flight crew members and air traffic controllers responsible for international flights effectively demonstrate their competence in the English Language. This is a legal requirement imposed by the International Civil Aviation Organisation (ICAO). Both pilots and air traffic controllers are required to sit a test which demonstrates 'Operational Level 4'. This test is based solely on listening and speaking skills. Oxford Business College's English for Aviation purposes offers students the opportunity to train in and practice both their listening and speaking skills.

Oxford Business College can administer the ELPAC test on site.

Course Content

During our lessons we aim to include as much variety of content as possible so that lessons are interesting, appropriate and relevant to learners. Generally the English tuition is focused on use of English for international communications and we also use materials that reflect British culture so that students can learn about everyday life in this country. We aim to ensure that students can use their English to manage everyday situations during their stay in Oxford and when visiting other English-speaking countries.

Understanding the differences between written English and spoken English is key for effective use of English language. Teachers support students to use the English language with confidence. We provide a range of lessons that consider many different issues such as entertainment, the environment, family and friends, food, health, shopping and work as well as English for using technology such as phones, social networks and other online activities. Our teachers will nurture you and can help you reach your potential for using the English language.

On our English courses at Oxford Business College we find the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) a useful tool to help students understand the pronunciation of English words that they find in the dictionary. It also enables us to explain pronunciation quickly and efficiently. We create our own materials as well as using respected English language textbooks and we encourage students to use their English in different situations outside of the College.

Throughout your course you will have countless opportunities to study and practice all of the above with your classmates. We also provide options for self-study at home or in our IT Suite /Student Resource Room.

Lessons include:

Speaking

- Increase your fluency through practice with your teacher and classmates.
- Improve your accuracy via constructive criticism and praise.
- Improve pronunciation through high quality training and use of phonetics.
- Feel comfortable in an environment where your opinion counts.

Listening

- Classroom practice to boost vocabulary, grammar and confidence.
- Use techniques to help you get the most from listening to English voices in a range of contexts.

Reading

- Use texts from a wide range of sources and authentic material to progress your reading ability.
- Read in different ways and for different reasons to build your overall grasp of reading English in multiple contexts.

Writing

- Practise different writing activities that will further develop your overall language skills.
- Develop strategies and techniques to express yourself better through written English.

Grammar

- Examine and learn the form of English grammar using different activities and materials.
- Practise your use of grammar in different situations to improve your English.

- Research Project
- Organisational Behaviour
- Statistics for Management
- Business Strategy
- Developing Individuals, Teams and Organisations
- International Marketing
- Tapping into new and International Markets

Entry Criteria

Students must have the following:

- A university first degree in any subject
- Relevant managerial experience
- English language proficiency by course length:

3 months: IELTS 6.0 with no less than 6.0 in each of the components

6 months: IELTS 5.5 with no less than 5.5 in each of the components

Course Information

It is designed for students who already have a first degree, but feel that they are not yet ready to begin their MBA studies. This could be because they have not been involved in any formal study for a number of years and prefer to first undertake a period of preparatory study. Or, it could be that the first degree subject was in an area other than business.

The College offers two programmes: a 3-month and a 6-month pre-MBA. The choice will depend on the student's current capability and, to some extent, on their preferences.

On the 3-month course, students will study two of the subjects listed, plus Study Skills, English for Academic Purposes, and Business English.

On the 6-month course, students will study four of the subjects listed, plus Study Skills, English for Academic Purposes, and Business English.

- Business English

Entry Criteria

Students should:

- be aged 21 or above
- have a first degree
- have studied business at a school or college
- IELTS 5.0 with no less than 5.0 in each of the components

Course Information

The MQP course will strengthen students' academic qualifications and will enable them to perfect the English and the study skills needed to attain a business qualification at this level.

Depending on their ability, students will normally spend nine months at the Oxford Business College, in the centre of Oxford. This will be followed by a further year at a UK university in order to complete a Masters degree.

Thus, in less than two years from starting an MQP course, students can complete an MBA or business-related Master's degree at a UK university.

Specific Aims

- to provide students with a qualification which will strengthen their application to a Masters programme at a British University.
- to expand students understanding of business.
- to train students in the study skills necessary for their future studies.
- to improve students use of English for academic purposes.
- to increase students IELTS band score to at least 6.5

Summer School with Oxford Business College

Delivered by: OXFORD
BUSINESS
COLLEGE

With over 30 years of expertise the OBC team can design, deliver and host a variety of summer schools from English language programmes to visiting educational tours for graduates, trainees and employees. We can provide a package based on the needs and budget of any organisation whether in the UK or visiting from overseas. As part of our Summer School we can also organise subjects which teach either English language or business or indeed combine the two. Examples of our recent work have included an MBA Business School from India who send students to Oxford for accommodation, business tours to such places as BMW and a day of lectures from our tutors. From Malaysia we have welcomed several groups of visiting business executives for 5 days of Oxford and London tours supported by lectures on UK business. We have also hosted English language Summer Schools where the students and teachers have stayed with us but we have complemented their visit by arranging accommodation, transfers, visits, social activities and administrative support. These are just a few examples of the work we have done over the years.
